Administration looks toward tomorrow

Busy Administrators Mr. Schott, Fr. Martich and Fr. Harpenau relax.

Most determined in the campaign to keep Chatard a reality has been the Principal, Father Gerald Gettlefinger.

Mr. James Schott, Dean of Studies and Vice-Principal of the school, devotes many hours in evaluation of the modular system and studies programs.

Mrs. Edythe Mehl and Father Patrick Harpenau take on their responsibilities as deans of women and men.

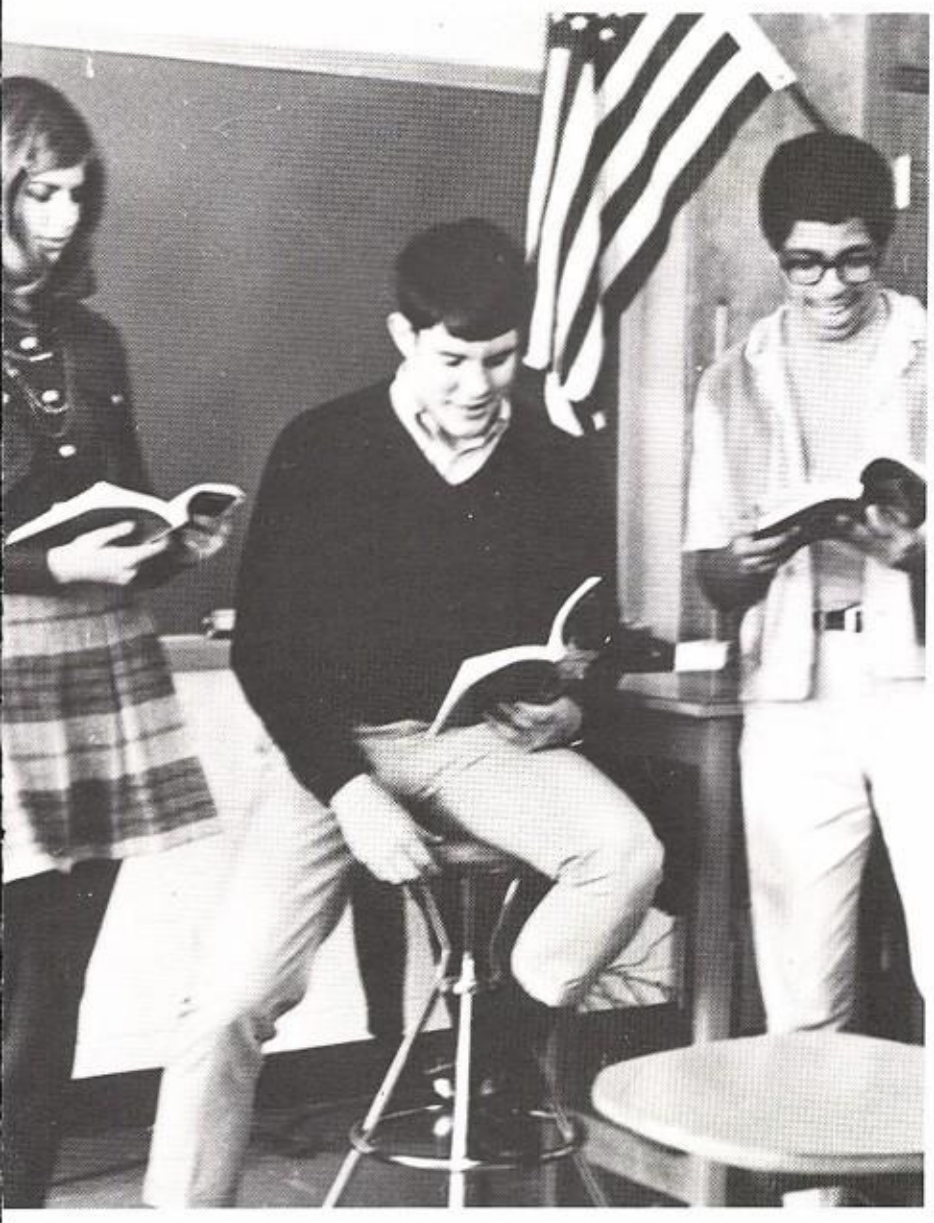
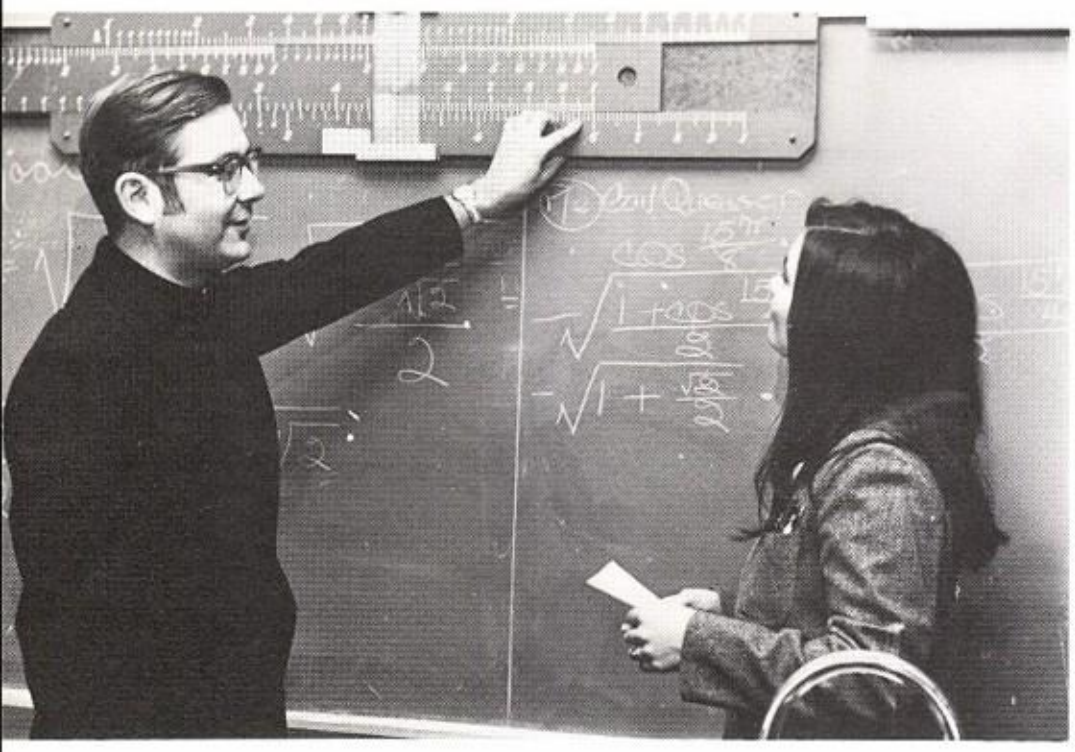
English encourages self-expression



Mrs. Phyllis Dunn, head of the English Department, has cited her basic objective in this year's courses to be "readin' and ritin'."

Literature will augment these fundamentals. Mrs. Beth Gilbert guides her freshman class through a sampling of fiction, non-fiction, plays and poems. Sister M. Irmingard concentrates on American literature focusing on the famous novel, Huckleberry Finn. Juniors, instructed by Mrs. Susan Gooch, and in the second semester, Mrs. Cynthia Strickland, have brightened the Canterbury Tales and other English literature with murals, posters and even models of the Globe theater. The senior class is given a taste of world literature, with a special study project on Greek thought for some students. Poets, such as T. S. Eliot, are studied along with supplementary reading, such as Darkness at Noon. Mrs. Dunn, the teacher, aims at giving a college preparatory course to the seniors.

Mathematics improves logical thought



Dividing a polynomial may sound like complete gibberish to a layman, but an advanced algebra student with a pencil can accomplish it in no time.

The Mathematics Department strives to capture the spirit of modern math, whose fast-paced changes in recent years have confused many a parent. The courses emphasize discovery and proof, as high speed computers accomplish the mechanics of mathematics in seconds, and the ability to simply formulate complex problems become increasingly important.

The five-year math plan, beginning with Algebra I, Plane Geometry, and Algebra II, in one year, Trigonometry and finally Calculus, is well-developed this year. The accelerated program was developed as an aid to the above-average math student, and allows them to obtain college credit for work done in high school.

Social Studies gives insights to past and present

"Wait a minute, I lost count," Mr. Harmon booms to Mr. Alexander, as they prepare to sell tickets for next week's game.

The Social Studies program at Chatard is headed up by Mr. David Alexander. At the senior level, Mr. Ricardo Mendez uses a variety of methods to familiarize the students with United States Government the first semester and Economics the second. A mock Congress provided experience in not only the ins and outs of politics, but also parliamentary procedure. Students learned the economic aspect of life by making monthly budgets and studying business frauds.

United States History is a required, and also a beneficial course for juniors. Mr. Alexander uses recorded documentaries and a number of term papers throughout the year as aids in learning. Mr. Alexander took forty of his students downtown during February to see President Nixon when he came to Indianapolis for a talk with Mayor Lugar.

World History is a course many sophomores gain by taking. As taught by Mr. John Farrell and Mr. John Nell, the course follows an intellectual plane, emphasizing the universality of man, as well as the various philosophies, eras and cultures man has assumed over the ages.

"As chairman of this committee . . ." John Persinger begins a session of the mock Congress which the senior Government class held.

Perfect diction in French IV is attempted by Terry Lyons to the amusement of Rita Turner, Paula Dellwo, and Alice O'Brian.

Language students strive for fluency

"South of the Bordern Spanish is spoken!" Stanley Dickerson informs classmates Alice Kenney, Rex Raderstorf, and Mary Hagelskamp. "Well, duh, I thought they spoke French!" says Alice.

"Mama, Mama" was a startling cry heard around Chatard at the beginning of the year. On further investigation, one might learn that it was part of a taped dialogue in the Spanish room—merely one aspect of "La Familia Fernandez", Encyclopedia Brittanica's visual-audio-lingual. The Spanish program, taught by Mr. Stephen Noone and Señor Ricardo J. Powell is enhanced by skits and speeches produced by the students, with a pinata at Christmas time for fun.

French classes had a continental air this year. Houbert Carbonell, a visitor from France, enlivened classes for several days with accounts of life across the ocean. Jane Stonecipher, a senior at Chatard and participant in the I. U. Honors Program in France the previous summer, was a big help to teachers Mrs. Jean Minneman and Mrs. Mary Ann Rupp. Mrs. Jane Larson has taken over Mr. James Schott's duties as Latin teacher. The science department, headed by Father Paul Hulsman, bases its instruction on experimentation in each course.

Freshmen experience their share of innovation this year with a new type of study program in the making. Students progress at their own speed through the course, reading and experimenting individually. Teacher Mr. Craig Hauss is on hand to give explanation and to clarify information.

Sophomores are instructed in biology by newcomer Steve Purichia. Filmstrips and special projects give emphasis to the course.

Chemistry students are taught again this year by Fr. Hulsman. Lectures, demonstrations, experiments and problems to be discussed at the board are the methods through which the course is taught.

Another newcomer, Mr. Richard Soendlin, instructs the physics class this year. The departments prized possession is the new vandegraf generator, which can be used in the study of electric currents.

Religion courses link faith with life

The religion program at Chatard presents a unified course, from freshman to senior level which strives to give relevance to Christian living today.

The freshman year, the course is taught by Miss Doris Geisler and attempts to present the freshman with a more concrete concept of divinity.

God as a person is the sophomore motif. Revelation, insights into life and sacraments are discussed, as well as pragmatic issues such as drugs and morality. Father Peter Martich is the instructor.

Junior year further broadens the scope of religion by discussing Christian values as they apply in the student's life.

The last section of the course is taught jointly during senior year by Father Patrick Harpenau and Father Gerald Gettelfinger. World religions, philosophies and situations are considered.

Business skills aid in career to come

A new course in the Business Department this year is a great boon to the average student. Personal typing is a one-module, one-credit course. Its aims are not to develop a student's typing skills for office work, but instead to teach the rudiments needed for correspondence and term papers.

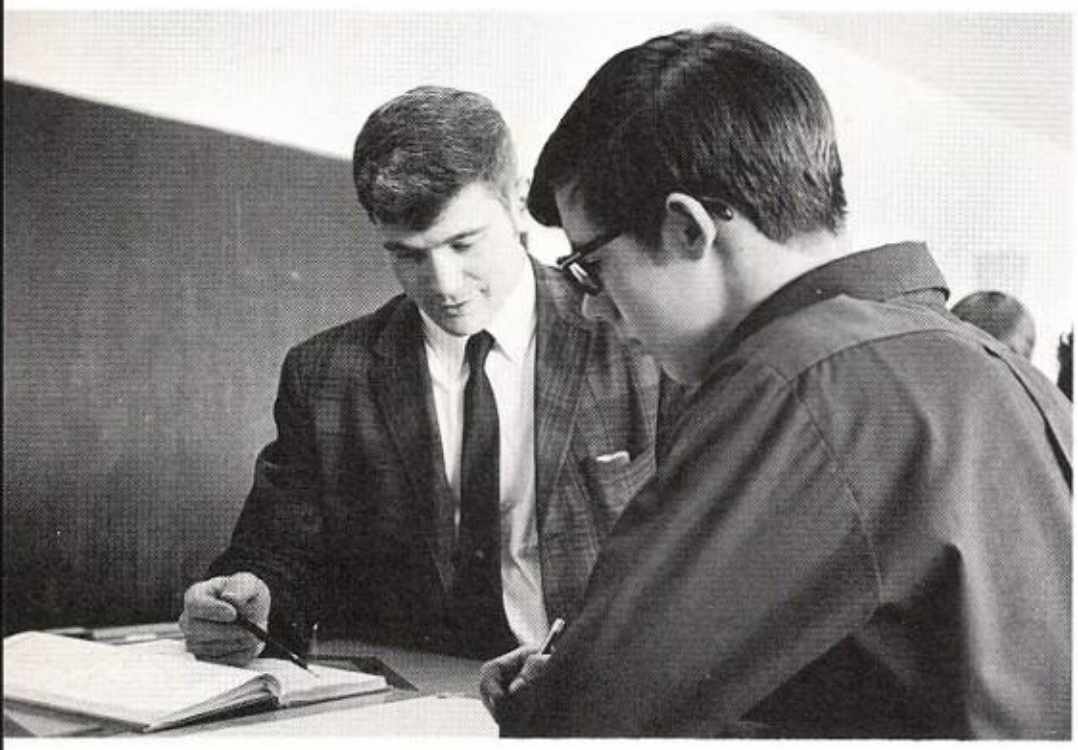
Typing I and II are again taught by Sister Mary Jonathon and Mr. Richard Dullaghan. Drills, timings and detailed term assignments are used to develop speed and accuracy.

Sister Jonathon also gives classes in Shorthand I and II and is head of the Business Department. Mr. Dullaghan leads the business law classes this year. Mr. John Farrell is instructing the bookkeeping classes for the first time this year.

Along with the other departments, business is growing and becoming better each year. It is a great help to each student in selecting future careers.

Fundamentals of profit and loss are clerified by Mr. Dullaghan.

Practical Arts bend toward future



In the Practical Arts department, skills are learned which lead to future ways of life. Four years of Mechanical Drawing, three of Home Economics and one of Family Living, all contribute to rounding out the student's knowledge.

Mechanical Drawing, taught by Mr. Richard Pfarr, is treated much like a language which must be read and understood. The first year is devoted to the fundamentals and learning to read the drawings. By second and third year, the students concentrate on practice to achieve facility. In the fourth year of the program, students may choose their own subjects.

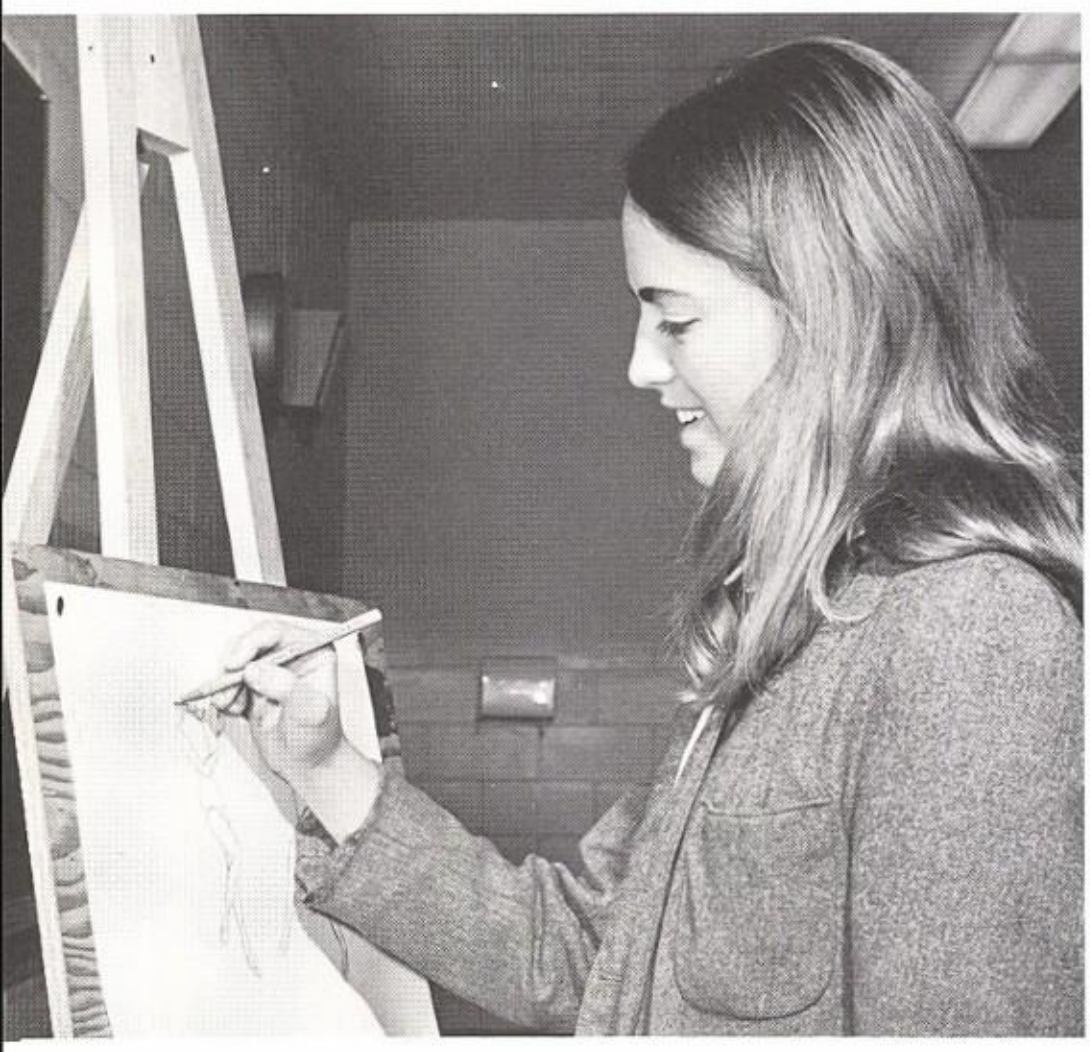
Arts lend polish to student talent



Special projects help Lisa Jackson to improve her art skills.

The fine arts at Chatard are sparked by band, glee club and art classes.

Sister Mary Lambert teaches Art, year I and II and advises special project art students. First and second year students are given experience in still life landscapes, life drawing and portrait, as well as side projects such as cartooning, ink lettering and art appreciation. Advanced and third year students may enter the special projects course, where each develops skill in individual areas, including oil painting.

The band, too, is divided according to ability this year. Beginning band members are coached to aspire to advanced band standing.

The Glee Club meets daily and sings annually at the Christmas program. Next year, the curriculum will be augmented by a Music Appreciation course. Director, Mr. Kern has done much to develop the cultural aspects of Chatard.

Office work invaluable for a smooth-running Chatard

Some things at Chatard are easily taken for granted. Club treasuries, records, and every-one's favorite in the snackbar are always handled with ease. Who is behind all this efficiency?

Mrs. Mary Jacoby, Mrs. Marie Farris and new staff member, Mrs. Myra Waldner deserve all the credit. Mrs. Waldner is head secretary in the office. The friendly voice on the phone, correspondence and newsletters are her responsiblities, as well as the countless memos, slips and cards which must be filed or found. Mrs. Jacoby, the treasurer, has the tedious task of bookkeeping including the trusteeship of club and class funds. Mrs. Farris is now in charge of the new snack bar in the cafeteria.

Assisting the women again this year are the senior girls, whose duties include the handling of absentee slips and phone calls.

Room to grow among the sounds of laughter

Annual tea gives first impressions

Michael (Mary Quinn), Wendy (Colleen Colbert), and John (Barb Henn) hear the rules of growing up, which all freshmen must know, from their nana (Fran Glesing).

Thursday, September 4, at 7:30 P.M., a bevy of smiling "sisters" descended on the galy-decorated school cafeteria for the annual Big Sister, Little Sister Tea. Name tags for each girl helped ease the confusion and through the hard work of senior Denise Hadden and helpers, the room was brightened with various shades of pink tissue paper roses for every table. The senior girls led their freshman sisters through the receiving line first, where Father Gettlefinger, Mr. Schott, Father Martich, Farther Harpenau, Mrs. Mehl, and other members of the faculty chatted personally with each newcomer. Refreshments were home-baked offerings from the senior girls, accompanied by gold-stamped pink napkins and punch. As the chatter lowered to a hum, senior vice president, Anne Courtney announced the evening's entertainment which starred Sally Ohleyer as Flickerbell, ending the evening on a note of laughter.

It's truly a Trojan World of Triumph for 1969!

Each year our homecomings grow in size and importance. This year, the floats were better, the queen prettier and the crowd livelier.

On that special October night the crowd was excited and full of spirit. Tension mounted as our Trojans clashed heads as well as wits with the Marshall Patriots.

Halftime brought the homecoming ceremonies, beginning with the parade of floats. The floats were imaginative, creative, and brimming over with Trojan spirit. The loss of the game couldn't begin to dampen the enthusiasm. This spirit carried over to the following evening when the students celebrated a successful homecoming at the annual dance. Those attending the dance, shared in the fun by dancing, chatting informally, and testing their art abilities on white paper tablecloths. "It's a Trojan World of Truimph" surely was the peak of all Chatard homecomings. Until next year . . .

Junior court members were Camille Bunny and Rita Litwicki.

Sock-hops give extra fun to students

After many of the exciting Trojan basketball games, students have the opportunity to unwind at post-game sock-hops. What with all the new dance steps, the frequent dances helped.

The annual Student Council Get Acquainted Dance sent the ball rolling in September.

Freshman, sophomore and junior classes sponsor a dance as well each year. It is generally agreed that a dance is the most painless method of raising money yet devised.

Assemblies adapt to students' needs

Freedom of assembly is a right guaranteed to students as citizens of Chatard and the United States. Students took advantage of this freedom as assemblies were held throughout the year to commemorate special Trojan occasions.

Pep assemblies prepared the students for an upcoming game with resounding chants and cheers. Cultural assemblies permitted the students to hear about organizations of the "outside world" such as Junior Achievement. The Glee Club and band presented a concert at Christmas time to a student assembly. Students were treated to the annual Faculty-Intramural Champs game in March.

Trojans banded with other Catholic high schoolers to form the largest assembly ever on the Circle to demonstrate in favor of keeping every parochial school open.

One factor that made assemblies so popular was the assembly schedule that went with them.

Spirit of Christmas prevails over all

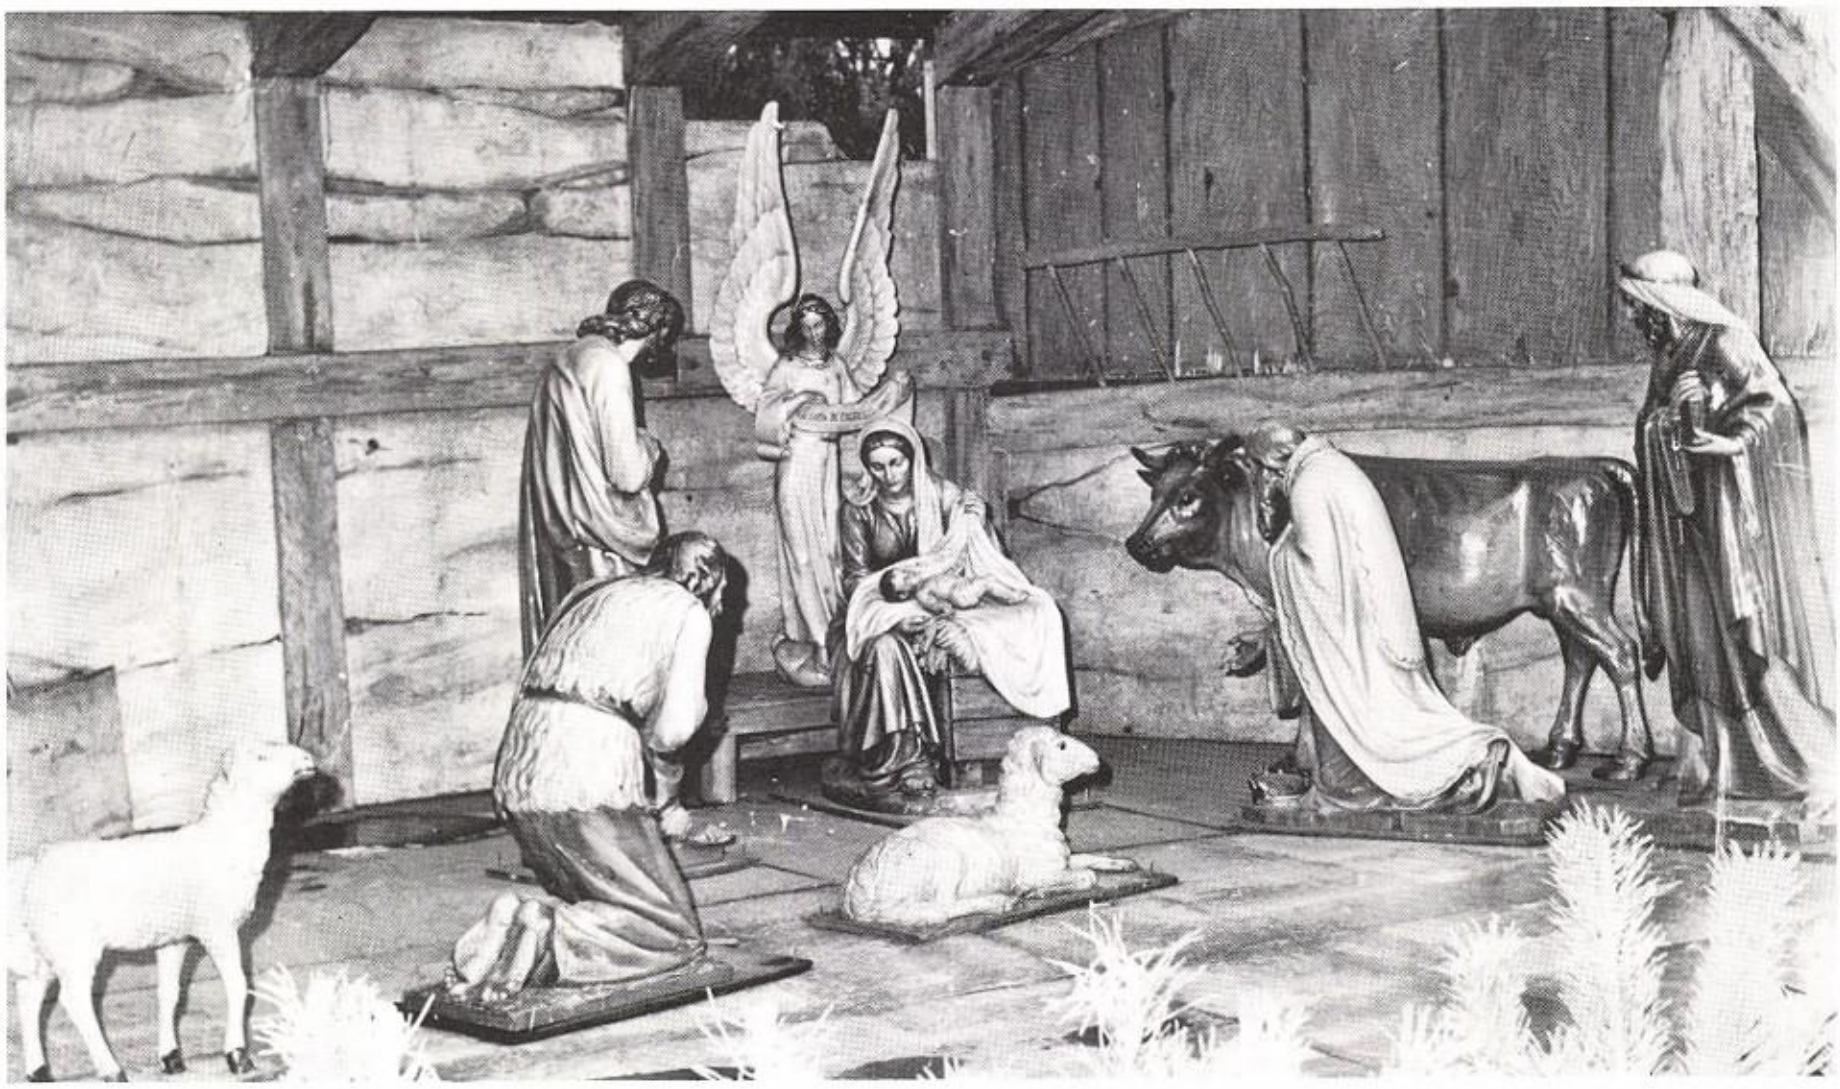
The winning door is decked by Anne Mascari and Terry Lyons.

The familiar words, "Peace on Earth, Goodwill to Men" assumed special meaning in the Christmas of 1969. At Chatard, the theme was expressed once more in the traditional window mural, where the letters of the word, "Peace" contained symbols of the Nativity scene.

The lobby doors were also decorated with the seasonal red and green of holly, berries, and bows.

Another well-remembered feature of Christmas at Chatard were the classroom door decorations. Finished with the usual flurry before judging, creations ranged from caricatures to mosaics. When all was done, senior homeroom 302 claimed first place with a design made from gold macaroni figures on blue foil.

On Friday, December 19, the ideal send-off for the holiday was the Christmas assembly. The chorus sang numbers such as the Drummer Boy, with the student body free to join in on old favorites.



The true meaning of Christmas is captured in the classic manger scene depicting the birth of Christ.

Annual Christmas Dance marks Yuletide

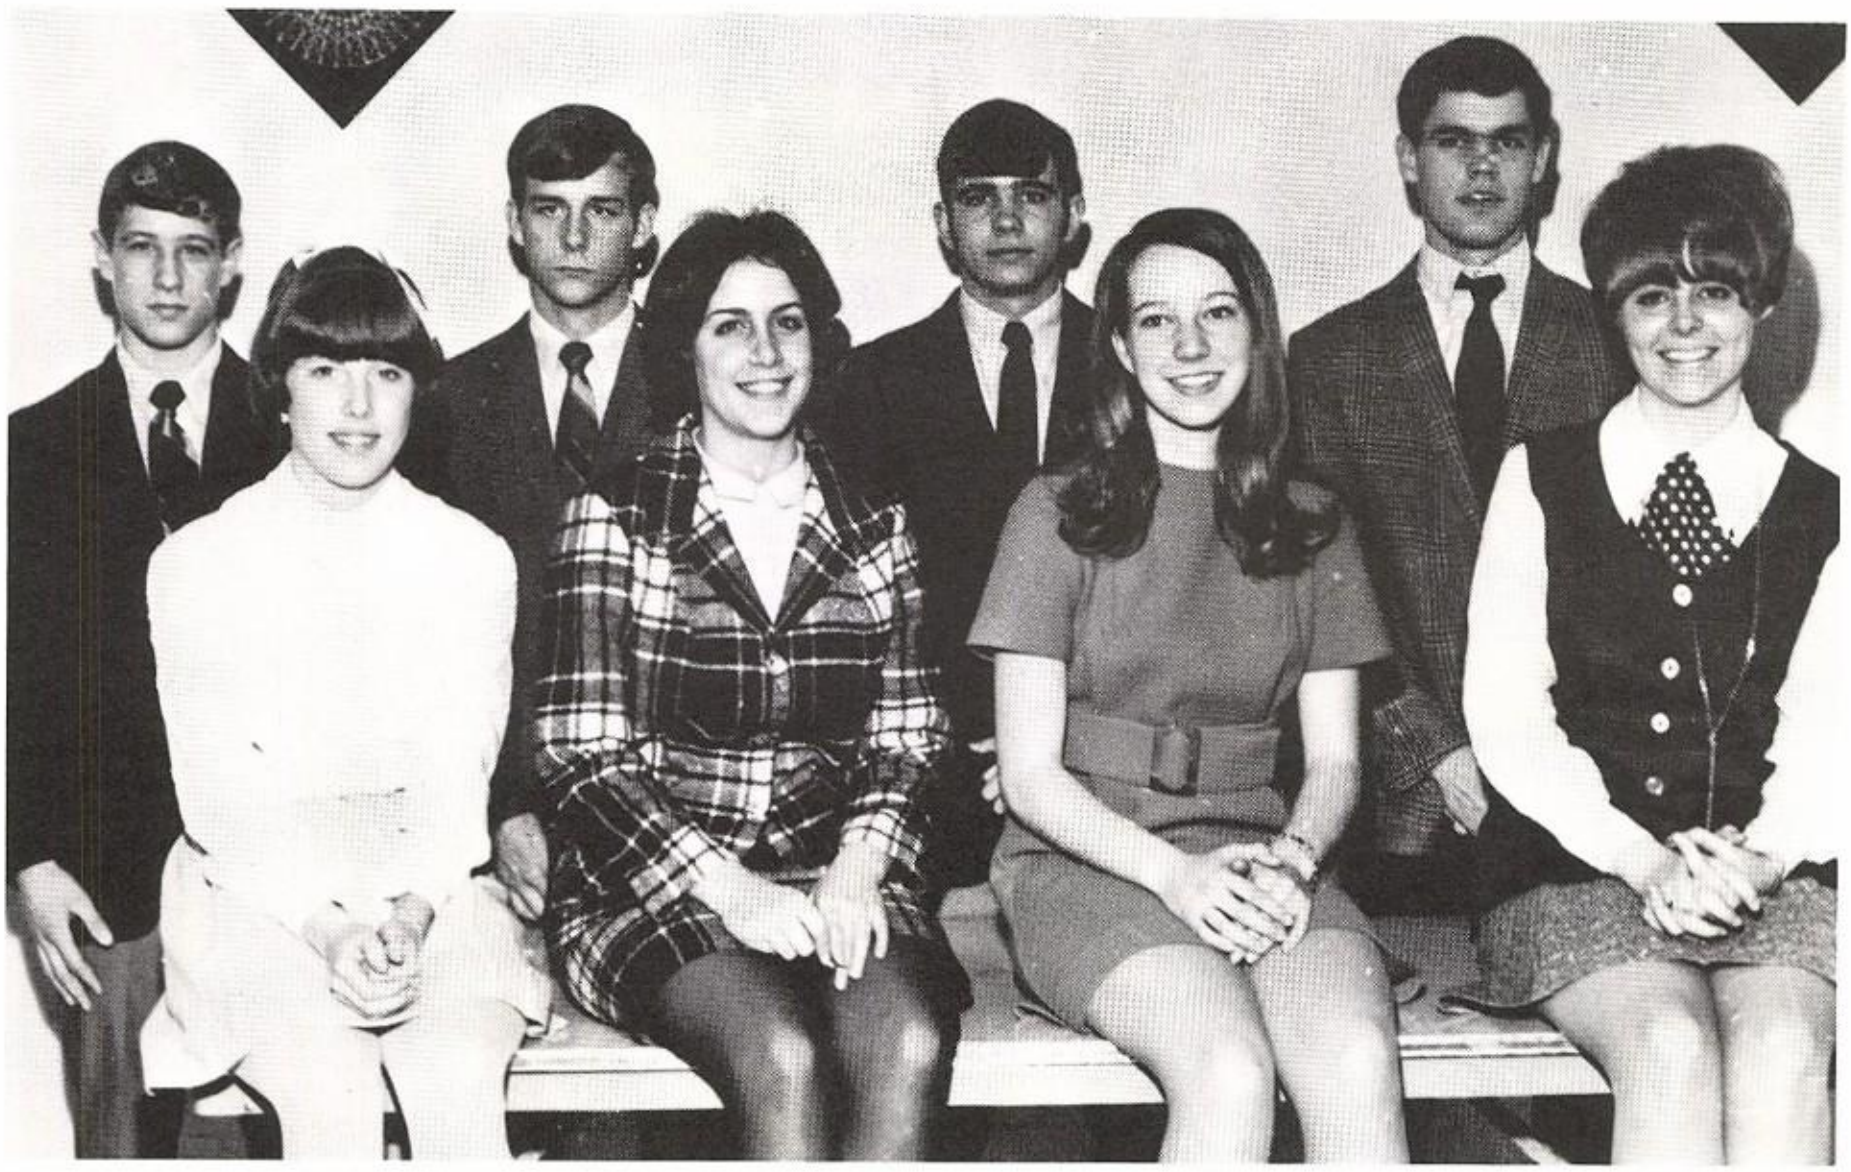
"One Shining Star"—a memory apart from the rest of the holiday glitter—is the annual theme for the Christmas Dance.

On entering the dance, held at the I.U. Medical Center, two tall evergreens stood out, dressed in gold balls and tinsel. Santa centerpieces brightened the tables, and starry gold mobiles hung from the ceiling.

The court had been voted upon in the homerooms, and the candidates for King and Queen were these: freshmen Jane Hurrle and Steve Prout; sophomores Sue Veza and Bill Robertson; juniors Nancy Turner and Dave Thompson; and seniors Anne Courtney and Jim York.

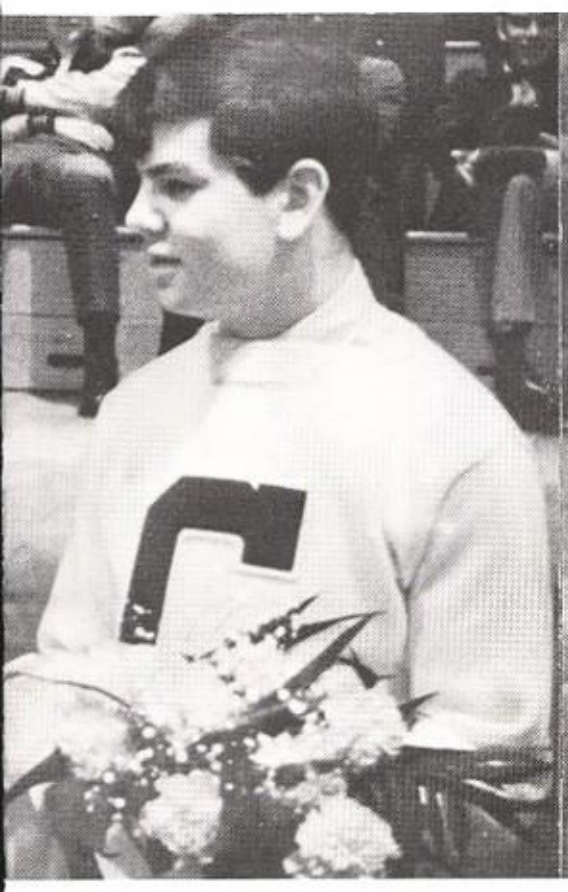
Final balloting was accomplished as the couples entered. Near the end of the dance, the King and Queen were announced. Much to the delight of the seniors, Anne and Jim were crowned.

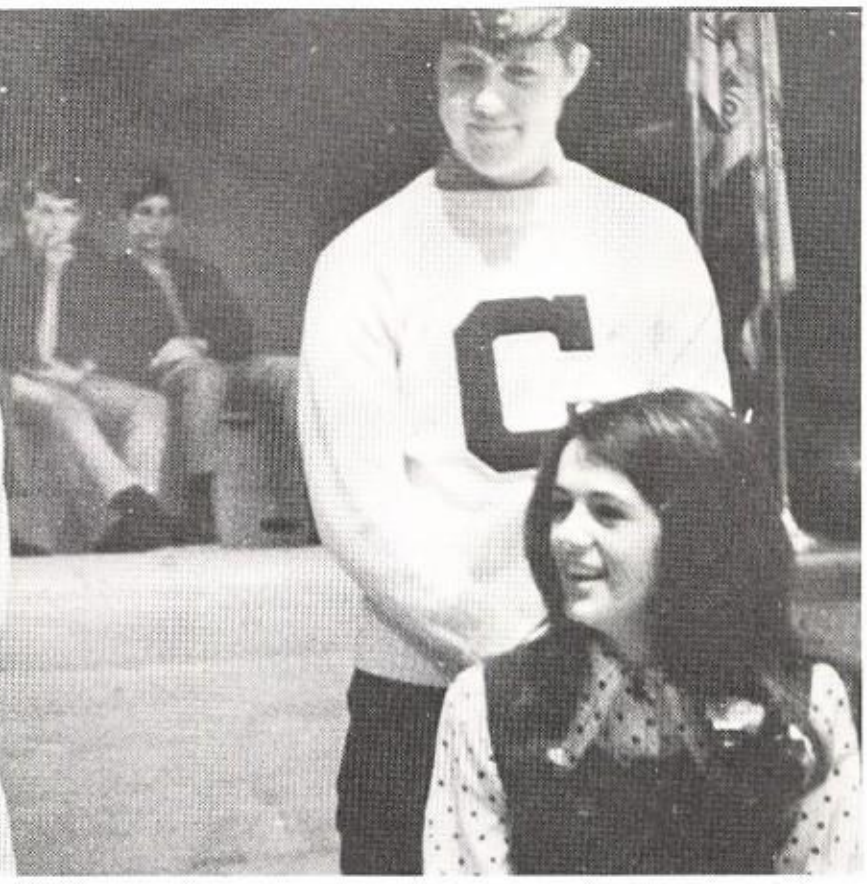
The dance was distinguished by the largest crowd ever.

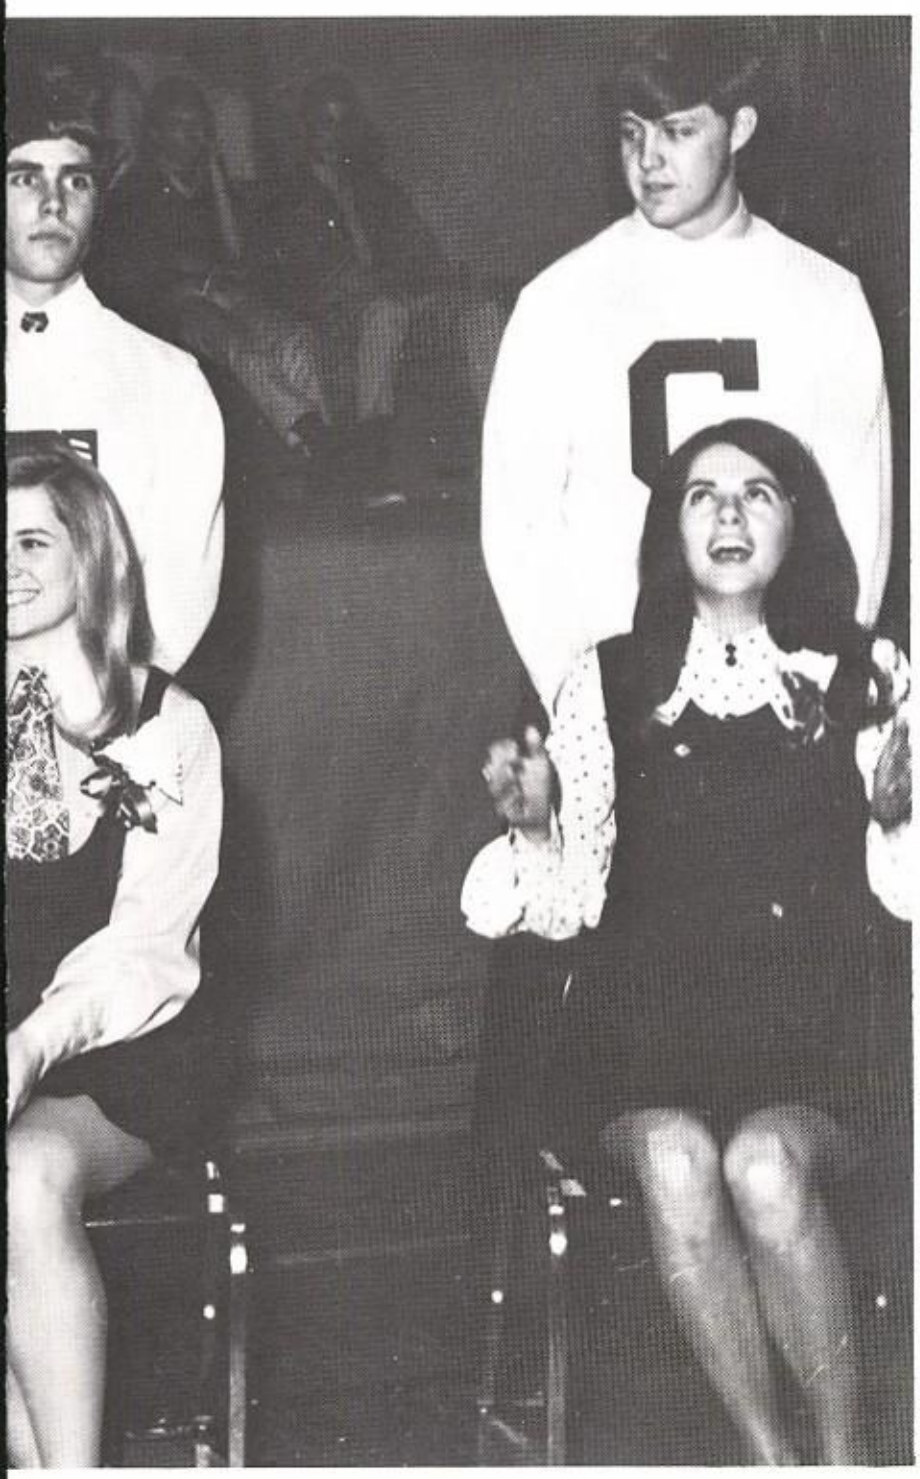


The Queen and King candidates are S. Prout, J. Hurrle, B. Robertson, S. Veza, D. Thompson, N. Turner, J. York, and A. Courtney.

RIGHT: Queen Kathy hides her tears of joy, upon hearing her new title.







Crowning of a queen highlights the basketball season

Once upon a time, several basketball players voted for the girl who had shown the most support for the team over the years. Five girls were chosen and there were five little screams as the names were read in homeroom the next day. Two juniors, Clare Fox and Kathy Getz, would form the court, and the queen would be one of the three: Paula Keckley, Kathy Lillis, or Dana Petit. The players met, agonized, and voted again.

At last the big night came. Five members of the court, smiling nervously because they didn't know, were escorted by five lettermen, grinning smugly because they did know.

When the candidates had had time to sit, and the audience had had time to hold and exhale two breathes, the announcement came. Kathy Lillis was queen, and everyone lived happily ever after.

Trojans salute vaudeville in annual variety tribute

On March 22, 1970 the curtain rose on the Annual Trojan Tribute to Variety. This year's show was an extravaganza to remember. Under the direction of Mr. Powell and his student and faculty assistants, the show was polished perfection. The participants worked overtime along with the stage crews and make-up girls to make this the biggest and best show ever.

The acts were very entertaining and widely diversified. They ranged from a "knife dance" as taken from West Side Story performed by several "graceful" Senior ballerinas to an original piano solo by Ed Bloemker. The audience held its breath as gymnists, Terry Morrow and Robyn Roesch performed graceful and daring acrobatic feats and once again walked off with top prize.

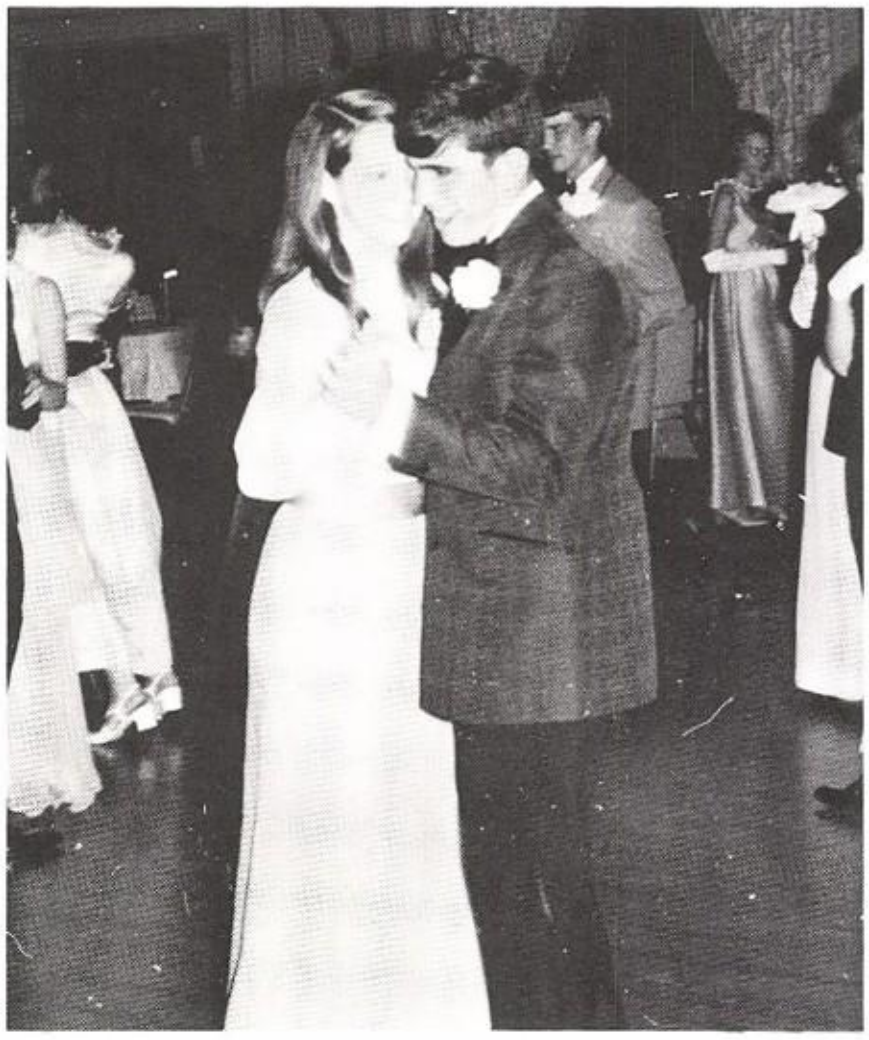
Juniors experience prom enchantment



Each year the month of April brings green grass, bright flowers, and for the class of "71", April brought the annual Junior Prom. Weeks of anxious preparation were climaxed on April 24 at the Indianapolis Athletic Club. The court, Mary K. Pruess, Rita Litwicki, Jan Williams, Debbie Connolly, Susan Dowd, Dave Thompson, Richard Winship, Mark Williams, Joe Cahill and Steve Stocker, along with each and every prom-goer was ready. A flowery array completed the spring-time decor. The walls were decked in pastel-colored flowers and trellises formed a romantic background for the ballroom dancing. As the night slipped by, the couples danced gracefully to the music of the "Headliners". Finally the long awaited moment of coronation arrived. Tim O'Brian, master of ceremonies, stepped up to the microphone and introduced the court. Tension ran high as Marcia Barbour, the prom chairman handed Tim the envelope. Queen Susan Dowd and King Joe Cahill made the prom complete as they glided through their royal dance. During the final moments of the prom, the Juniors, "Now More Than Ever", realized how much their prom meant.

Gay spirits, hard work make ball a great way to go

The seniors climaxed four years of hard work at the annual Senior Ball. This year, the ball was held at the Columbia Club from 9:00 to midnight. Spirits ran "high" and could not be dampened by soggy weather. The plush ballroom carried out the original theme of "What a Way to Go" with Tiffany glass flowers in varying shades of blue and floating candles adorning each table. A large clock on the wall set at "five till seventy" denoted the Senior's four years of attendance at Chatard. Male prom-goers received amber colored mugs while the girls were given wooden paddles. Each favor was inscribed with the theme of the prom and the date. The court lined up for the long-awaited moment of coronation. After the crowning, Queen Debbie Breiner and King Mike Winship moved the hands of the clock to 1970 and the evening was complete. With misty eyes, Seniors ushered out the year and bid goodbye to a beautiful evening.

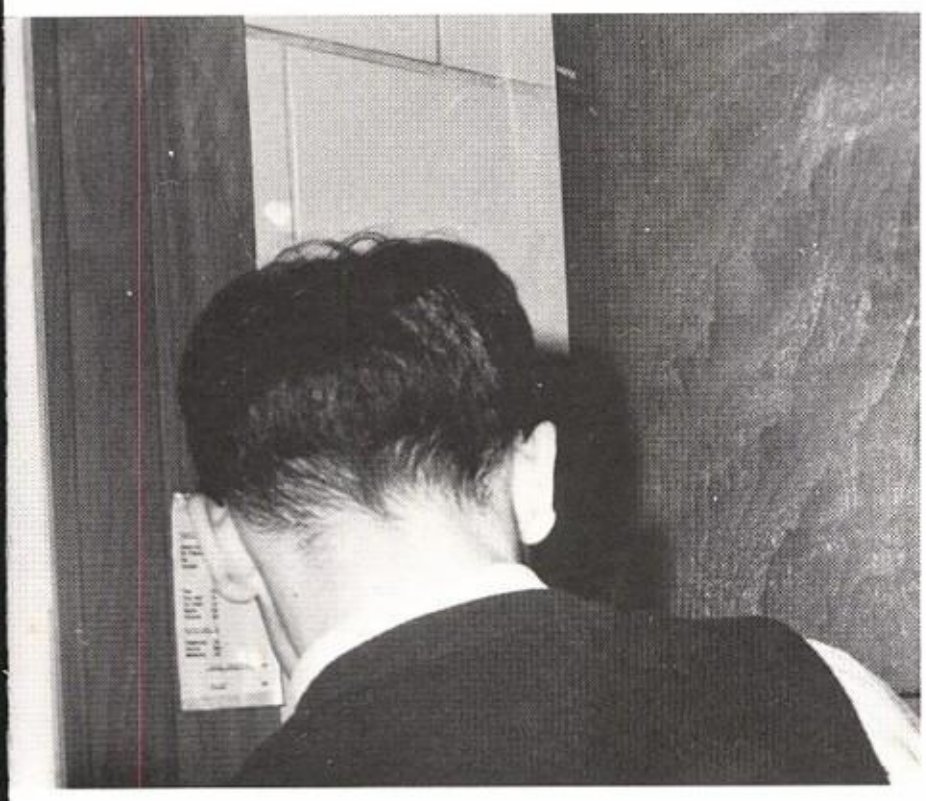
link between students and faculty



Activity is the hallmark of this year's Student Council. Besides providing a link between the student body and the administration, our Council has helped to keep the school's social life alive.

Some of the dances the Student Council sponsored include the Get Acquainted Dance, the Christmas Dance, and the Homecoming Dance. Council members also supervised the Thanksgiving Food Drive, the Christmas door decorations, sold Trojan spirit buttons, and were instrumental in putting up the sports pictures in the lobby.

Showing that they really care about Chatard and its future, the Student Council members immediately took action when the school was threatened with closing. They helped organize a demonstration downtown and a march to the Cathedral to dramatize our concern for our school. To say that the Student Council cares about Chatard and shows it would be an understatement.

Honor societies boast "cream of crop"

The National Honor Society's members are students who display the qualities of leadership, scholarship, character, and service. The Society's activities throughout the year gave its members a chance to put their abilities to work. The first project of the year was the purchase of a calendar to show upcoming school events of the month. It was placed in the main hall. Next, the National Honor Society set up a tutoring program to help prepare students for semester exams. Finally, members published an anthology, entitled "Ambergris," which included original entries from the whole school.

The Quill and Scroll, which is an international honorary society for high school journalists, recognizes the long hours and creativity that members of the Trojan Shield and Citadel bring to their work. Since it is honorary, the Quill and Scroll elects no officers and sponsors no activities.

1970 CITADEL records events of a "Red-letter year"

Commonly known as Chatard's gossip center, Room 307's official title is Yearbook Staff Headquarters. It is the scene of blossoming creative genius, a frantic search for the "croppers" and the last mad rush to meet a deadline. What may seem like utter chaos when several staffs are working at the same time eventually produces a high-quality, interesting yearbook.

The Citadel has constantly expanded over the years—more pages and color pictures are the new features in this year's edition. Editor Ann Temple's patience and calm in a crisis are legendary. Head photographer Mike Flynn and his staff scouted all school events and consistently produced unusual candid pictures. To help defray the cost of putting out the yearbook, the staff sponsored a dance in the fall. An ad drive was used to increase funds. For bringing in the most money, Seniors were awarded with a free day.

TROJAN SHIELD keeps Chatard informed

Did you ever stop to wonder how much work goes into putting out a newspaper? Not many people have. The Trojan Shield, which is published monthly, has been given the rating of All-Catholic. Working after school and often on weekends, the loyal staff has consistently turned out excellent papers. A good newspaper staffer has to have a sense of curiosity, a nose for news, and the ability to change a commonplace story into an interesting one.

The Trojan Shield keeps the student body informed of upcoming events of interest, such as banquets, dances, and contests. It also editorializes, often criticizing constructively, and reports on Chatard's current sports seasons. In the religious department, Father Gettelfinger writes a monthly letter to the student body, giving timely suggestions on the right way to live a good Christian life.

From sponsor Sister Jonathan to the typists, the Trojan Shield tries harder.

The Quiz Team, under the direction of Father Hulsman, develops the intellectual capacities of its participants. Rigorous practices after school accustomed the Quiz Team whizzes to the fierce competition to come. Each member of the team specialized in one department of learning, such as American government, chemistry, or world literature. After months of intense work, the Quiz Team met its first challenger on the television program, "Exercise in Knowledge." The team was successful and ultimately advanced all the way to the semi-finals. Chatard welcomed the chance to be represented intellectually as well as athletically.

The Red Cross and C.S.M.C. are two clubs that go beyond the walls of Chatard to be of service to the whole community. Members of these organizations collect stamps for the missions and make toys and articles for the more unfortunate people of the city.

The Chatard language clubs give students a chance to put their knowledge to work. Meetings are held in the language being studied. For this reason, members must at least be at second-year level. Guest speakers from France and Spain illuminate the cultural aspect of language study.

The Spanish club, sponsored by Mr. Richard Powell, started a tutoring program during the year to help students at exam time. The club saw "Man of La Mancha" at Clowes Hall, and also gave a Christmas party.

The French club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Jean Minneman, had a party at Christmas time and performed skits in French. The club entered a can-can routine in the Annual Trojan Tribute to Variety, and later on in the year members sold doughnuts to pay for a French dinner at Chez Jean's.

Trojans show artistic, dramatic talent

Not content to contribute just their artistic talents to Chatard, the members of the Art Club decided this year to bring money. Besides making posters to advertise various school events, Art Clubbers set up a boutique and sold handmade items. The proceeds from the sale went toward the purchase of materials for the Art department that otherwise could not have been obtained.

Chatard's Thespians brought home the honors again this year. Their entry in the One Act Play contest was "Sorry, Wrong Number". Sherrie Schmaltz, in the lead role, won a gold medal, and Mike Winship in a supporting role, won a silver medal. Drama Club members also helped in presenting the annual Trojan Tribute to Variety.

"Where is that groovy music coming from? Is that our band?" You bet it is. With President Dick Gauchat, Vice-President Jim Hayes, and Secretary-Treasurer Cathy Fortner taking the initiative, the Trojan band has been given more responsibility this year. This independence has given band members more opportunities to develop their abilities in a freer atmosphere.

Our band is active all year round. They play at home games, both football and basketball. In addition, they perform at many cultural and pep assemblies. In May the members put on a spring concert.

During the basketball season, a solid block of Trojan blue can be seen at our home games. It is the very vocal cheerblock encouraging the team to win another one. This verbal precision is the result of hours of practice and many sore throats. Long after the game is over, their cheers linger in the gym.

Chatard's Trojettes brighten up the half-time for spectators at all home football and basketball games. The twenty-one girls, under the leadership of head Trojette Sherri McAllister, perform with sparkling precision.

Our Trojettes are now members of the National Drill Team Association. This July they attended summer camp at Vincennes University and along with girls from all over the state learned drill marching and new routines to use during the basketball season.

The Trojettes were invited to march in Nobelsville's annual Christmas parade again. We can be proud to have such a fine group represent Chatard.

"S-U-C-C-E-S-S! That's the way you spell success!" This cheer applies not only to Chatard's athletic teams but also to its cheerleaders. For the second year in a row our championship cheerleaders came home from the Indiana University competition with the state title. Many hours of practice resulted in their precision actions and winning style.

During the summer they also attended a camp at Vincennes and a clinic at the University of Cincinnati. This aided them in planning new cheers and also gave them experience in the area of crowd control.

Besides backing the teams at athletic events our cheerleaders also give help and encouragement to girls trying out for the freshman cheerleading squad. Their enthusiasm keeps the fire of school spirit eternally burning in every Trojan.

Judge Duck's Court wins championship

Giving the women a chance to show the men how it really ought to be done was the Girl's Intramural Basketball Association. Dazzling the crowd with their spectacular shooting and ballhandling skill, the girls played on Tuesday nights from December to April. Occasionally the refs (varsity basketball players in disguise) called a disputed foul and found themselves with an enemy the next day. Injuries were few—just a couple of black eyes and broken ribs. Most teams had routines they followed religiously. Some had special plays, some had group prayers before the game, and others took Gator-Ade breaks at half-time. The season was topped off when Judge Duck and the Supreme Court, a senior team, won the GIBA championship.

Trojan Lettermen did more for Chatard than just bring home athletic victories. Men in letter sweaters also took tickets at basketball games, held ropes and swept the playing floor. In addition, the Lettermen's Club held a dance in April, with the "Soul Society" providing the music. All proceeds from the dance went to the Athletic fund.

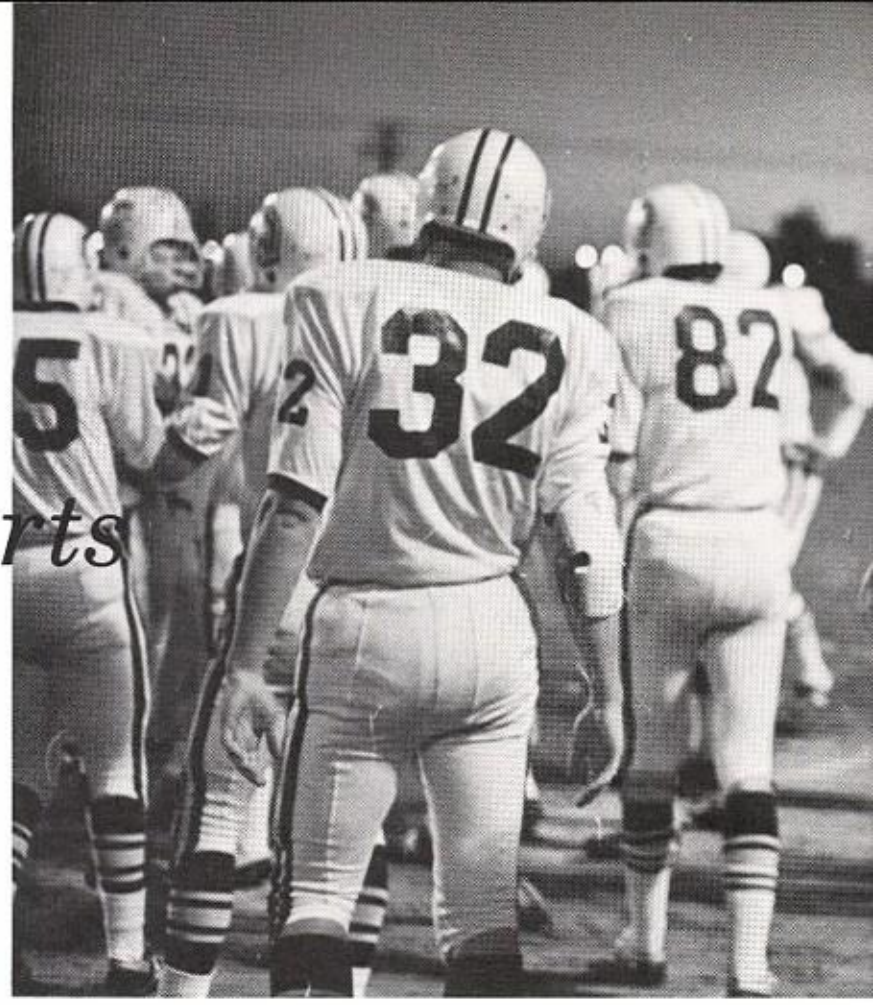
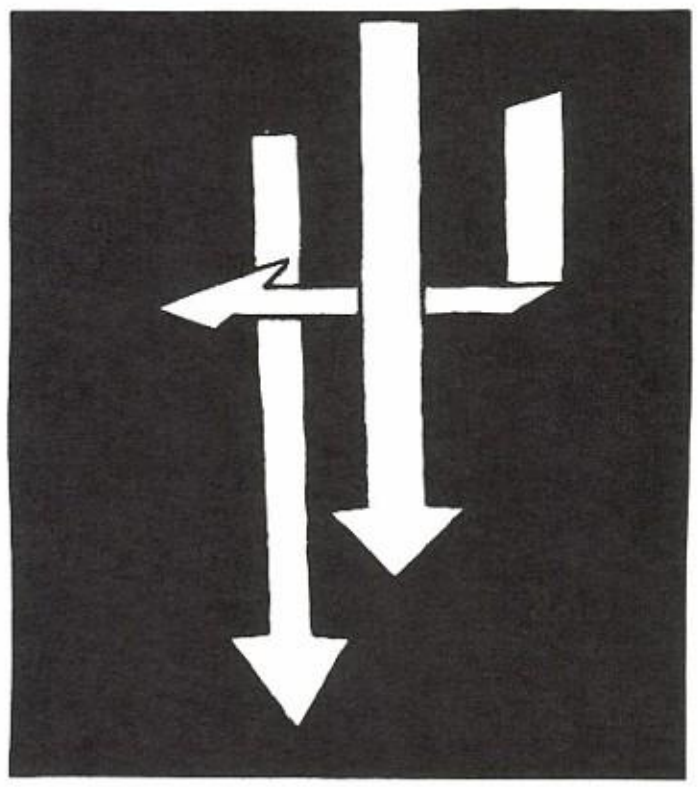
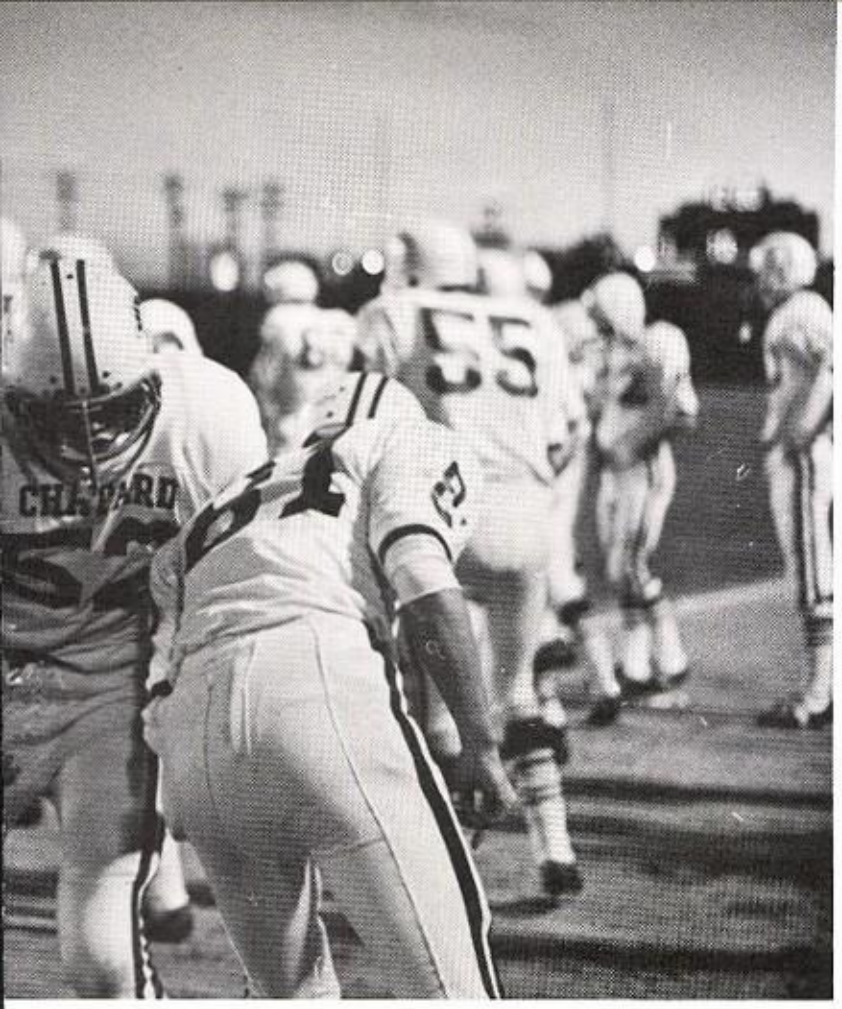
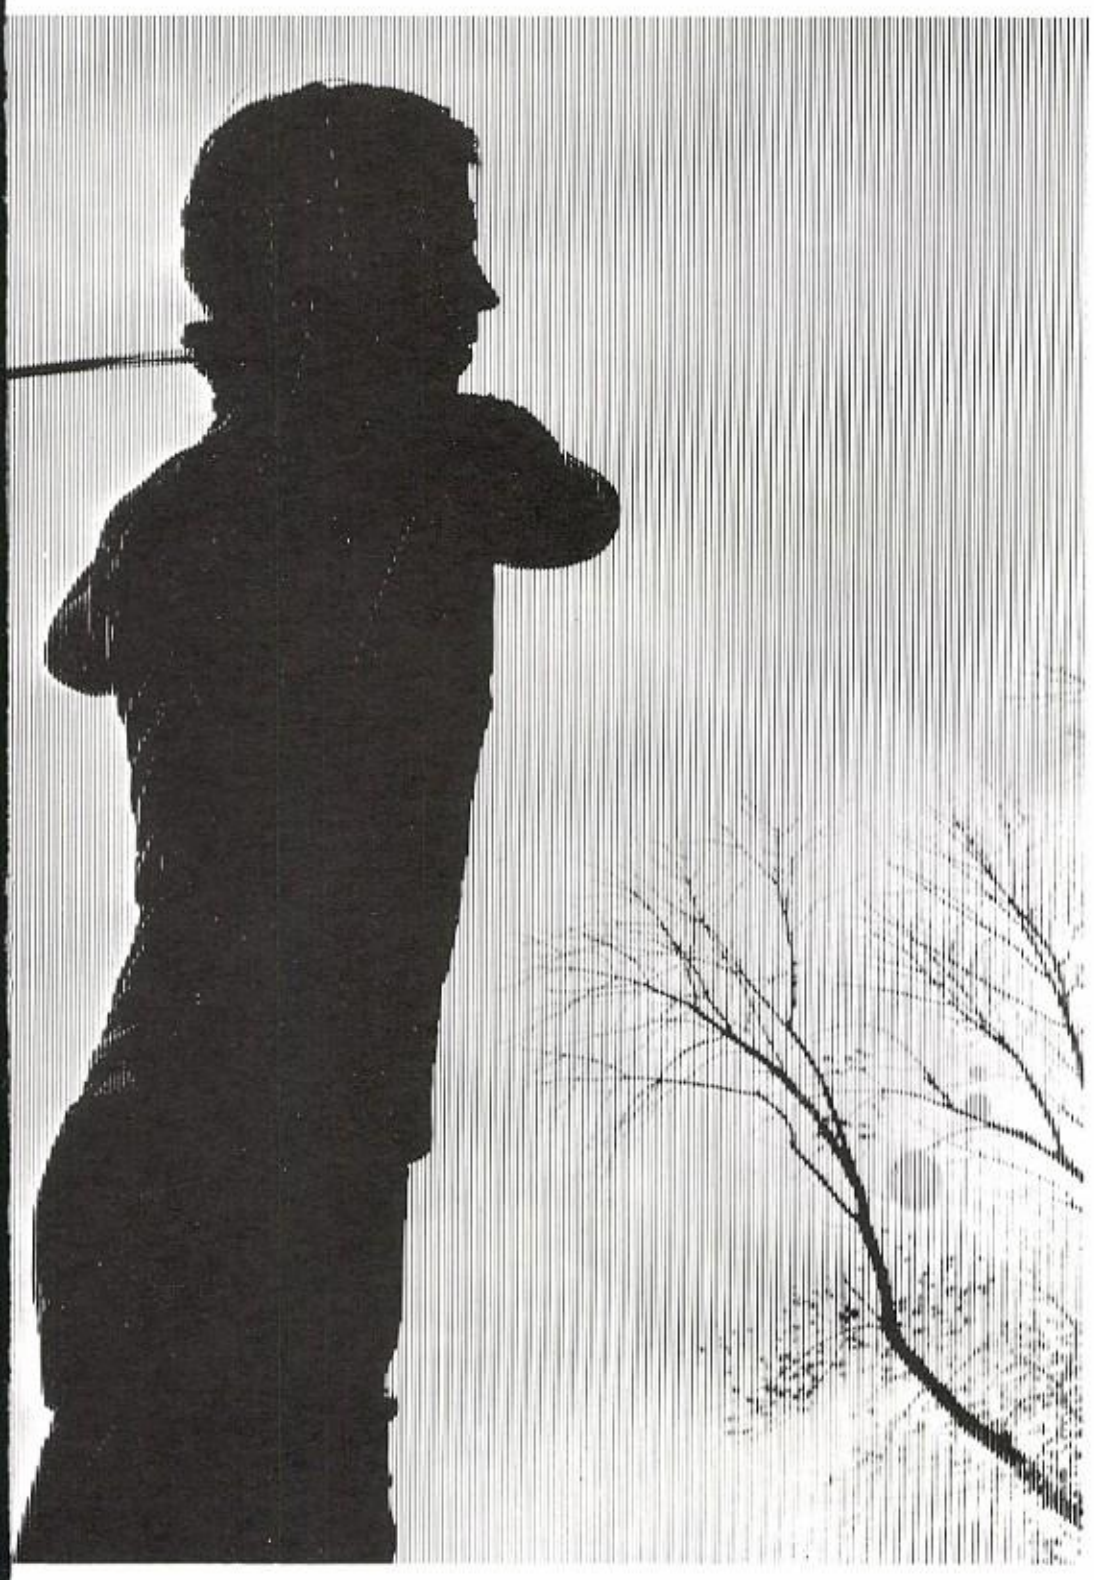
Growth through the trauma of "win" and "lose"









Varsity record shows unexpected power

Despite being hampered by injuries, the Chatard Trojans finished the season with a very fine 8-2 mark. A small note: the Trojans were only eight points away from an undefeated season. This gave the team its best student-backing in history. It also proved to the rest of the city that Chatard is a team to be reckoned with, whether it's in a supposedly down year or not.

Chatard's successes were due to a very hard-working senior group. Add to this a few key juniors and a unit of very mature sophomores. More so than any other year, Chatard was a real "Team". It was this team that amassed a total of 226 points. It was this team that, for the 3rd consecutive year, lead the city in defense, allowing only 62 points.

However, this is not to say that some truly outstanding individual performances were not turned in. They were.

Mark McDonough set two career records for most carries and most yards gained. In four years, he gained nearly 1900 yards. Once again he was All-City and All-State.

John Veza, All-City and All-State, set a record for most tackles in one game. He had an unbelievable 15 solo tackles against Marshall, increasing his own record of 13 from the previous year. He also compiled a record 159 solos in three years of varsity experience.

Rory Russell set a mark with 7 pass receptions in a game. He performed this feat twice, against Scecina and Marshall, He also set a new record with 30 pass receptions for the season. He, too, was All-City.

Billy Lynch, Only a soph, got into the act. Bill completed a record of 15 of 27 passes for a record 224 yards against Marshall. After one year, Bill, is only 10 completions shy of Harold Queisser's career mark of 95. City foes can sweat for two more years.

Other players honored were Kevin Hughes, 2nd Team All-City, and Jim Tinder, Jim Jackson and Ed Lacey, All-City Honorable Mention.

These just happened to be the only ones recognized officially. There were numerous others who made recognition possible. This year the Trojans were real champs. With the same kind of spirit, they can't help but repeat.

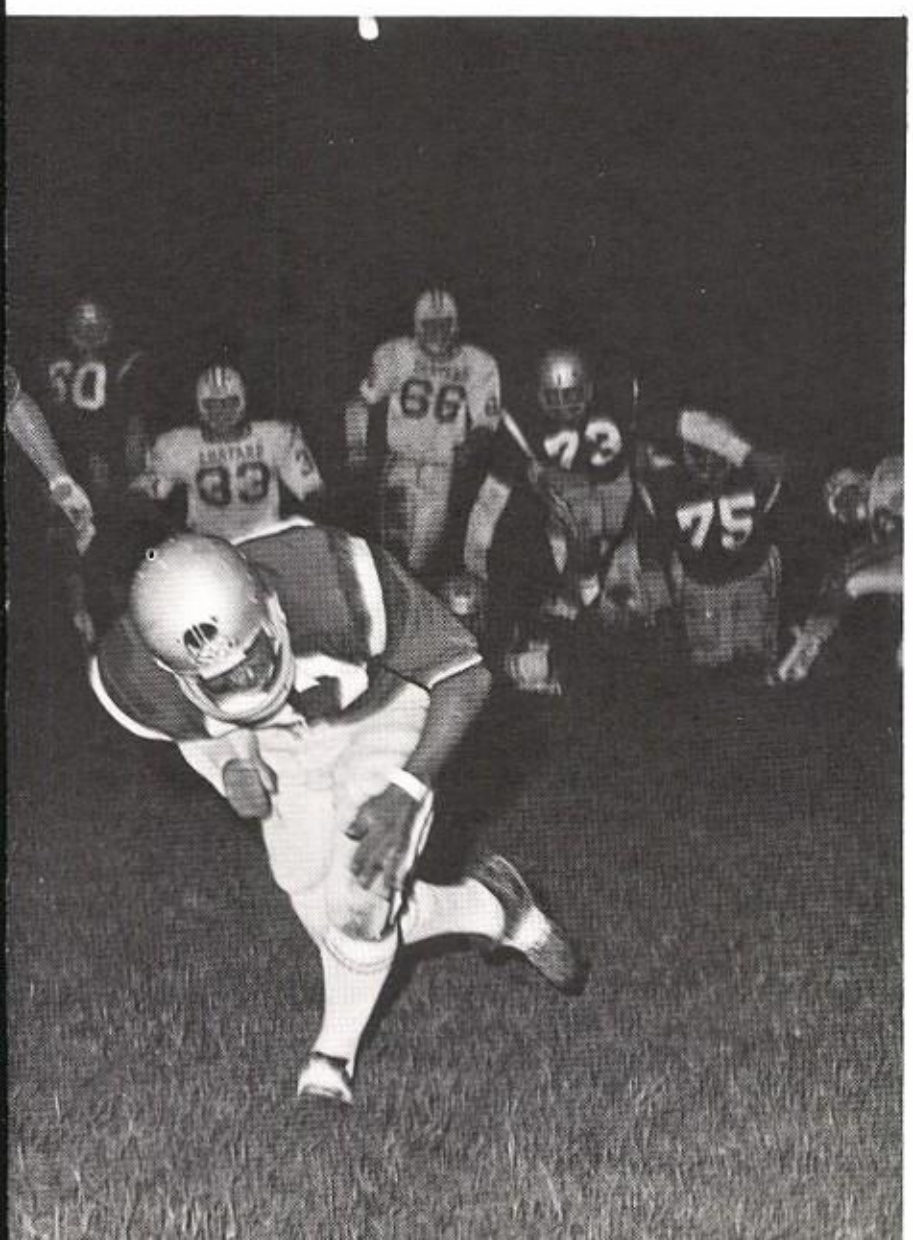
ence victorious season with 7-2 record



A 7-2 record by the Trojan Reserve Football team, the second best reserve record in the history of Chatard, gives promise of an exciting future for Chatard Football. Under the direction of Coach Craig Hauss and Coach Steve Purichia, the Trojans compiled a total of 86 points. Much of their success was due to the agressiveness of their defensive unit, which, other than the Brebeuf game, permitted only 24 points.

The Reserve team operated with sophomores, and juniors on defense, and sophomores, and juniors on defense.

The varsity has 10 lettermen returning, so the 70-71 season could easily live up to great expectations.

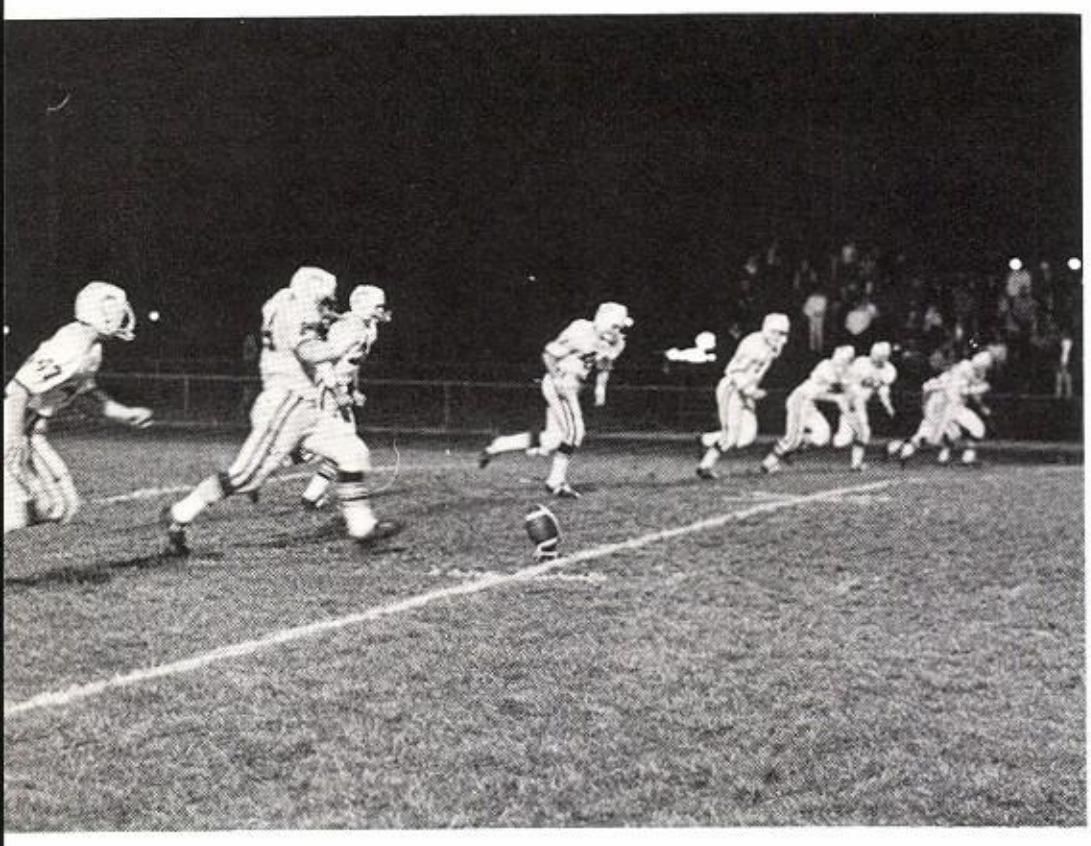
Fighting freshmen capture city title



This year's Freshmen Football Team proved to be an exciting and mature group of players. They came up with the "City Championship Title".

The Freshmen were guided by two newcomers to the football staff, Coach John Nell, and Coach Jim Teer. Through their skillful training, the not so fresh freshmen, were able to prove what football players were really made of—grit and desire. This was clearly seen in both their defensive and offensive units. The defense permitted only 20 points to their opposition and the offense totaled a score of 172 points, an average of about 19 points per game.

These same freshmen will move up to the varsity for the 1970 season. Therefore, the varsity and reserve football squads should not be lacking in the talent department. These achievements are truly a testimony to fine coaching.

Varsity matmen display power in season, tournaments

Wrestling is the up and coming sport, and Chatard matches are a perfect example of its growing popularity. Not only do the grapplers exhibit great versatility in all situations, but they have shown true team spirit along with individual determination. The spectators are also increasing each year, which adds much spirit to the matches.

This year the Varsity Wrestling Team was under the new direction of Coach Richard Dullaghan. The boys responded positively to his efforts and ended the season with an 8-4 record.

There were several "firsts" for Chatard this year. They placed fourth in the Indianapolis City Tournament, the highest in the school's history, and produced their first City Champ, sophomore Van Petit at 107 lbs. The team also placed third in the Indiana State Sectionals, behind North Central and Carmel. Chatard had four wrestlers in the finals, all placing second. Another accomplishment was made by Jack Williams, who took first place in the Carmel Invitational Tourney, at 130 lbs.

The team is loosing only two seniors, with ten varsity returning. Chatard's 1970-71 wrestling team looks like state championship material.

	Won 8 Lost 4

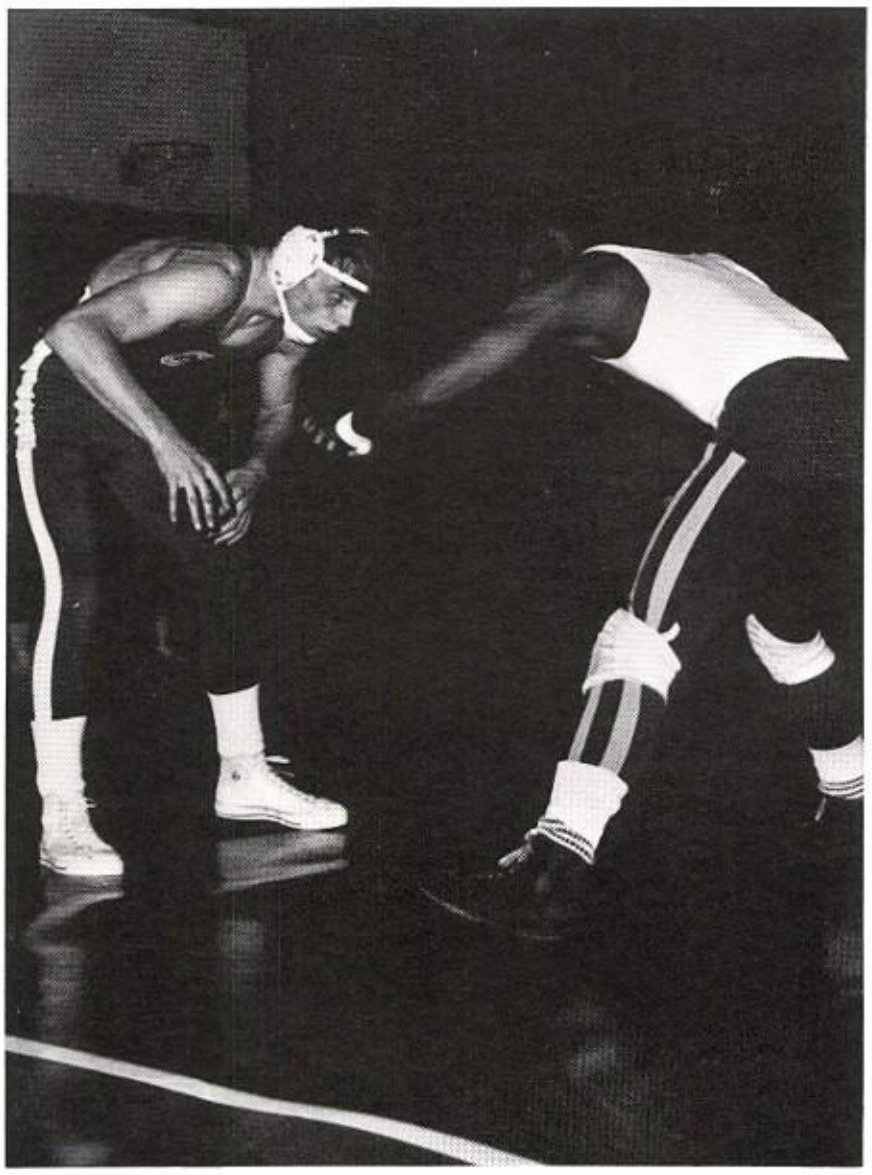
The Reserve and Freshmen wrestling teams have shown true dedication to the sport and have proven this with a winning season and city tournament ribbon placements.

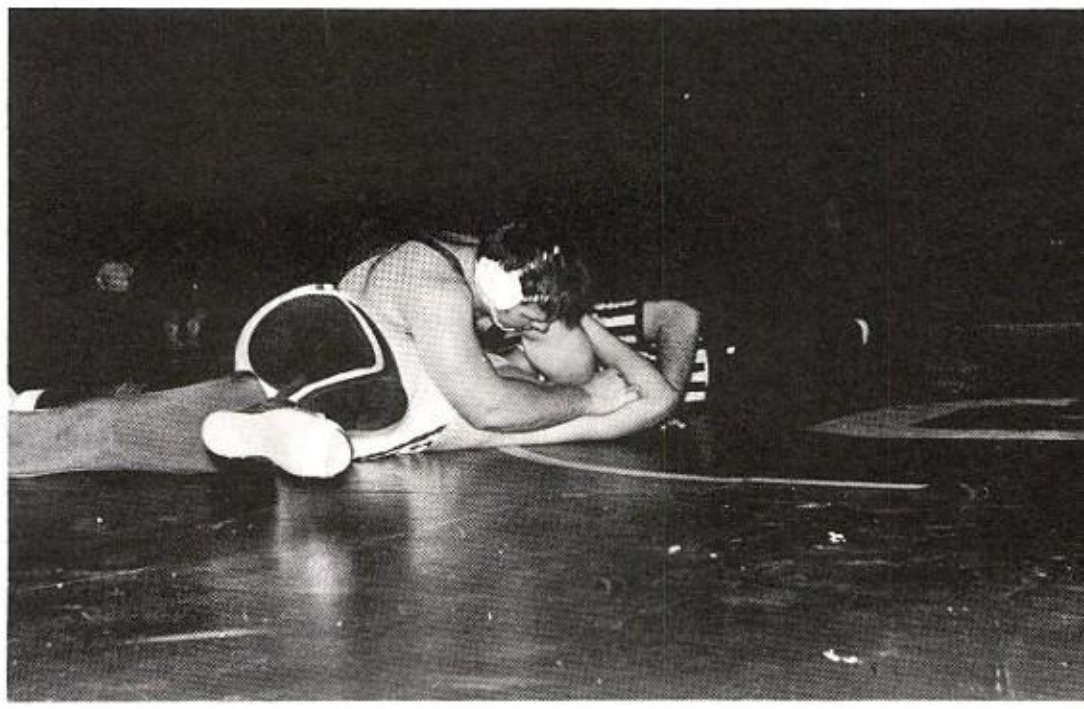
The reserve team finished with an 8-4 record and placed fourth in the City Tournament. Under the expert coaching of Mr. Steve Purichia, four reserve wrestlers placed in the city meet. Richard Raff took a second, Bill Connor and Mike Shelly took third, and Tom Welch took a fourth place ribbon.

The Freshmen team was one of the best Chatard has ever produced. They, too, took fourth in the City Tournament with six individual ribbon winners. Dan Johnson took first place in heavyweight while Victor York and Dan Clark placed second. Pat O'Brian took third place with Steve Prout and Tom Curley placing fourth.

The freshmen were coached by Mr. Richard Pfarr, and ended with a 2-3 record.

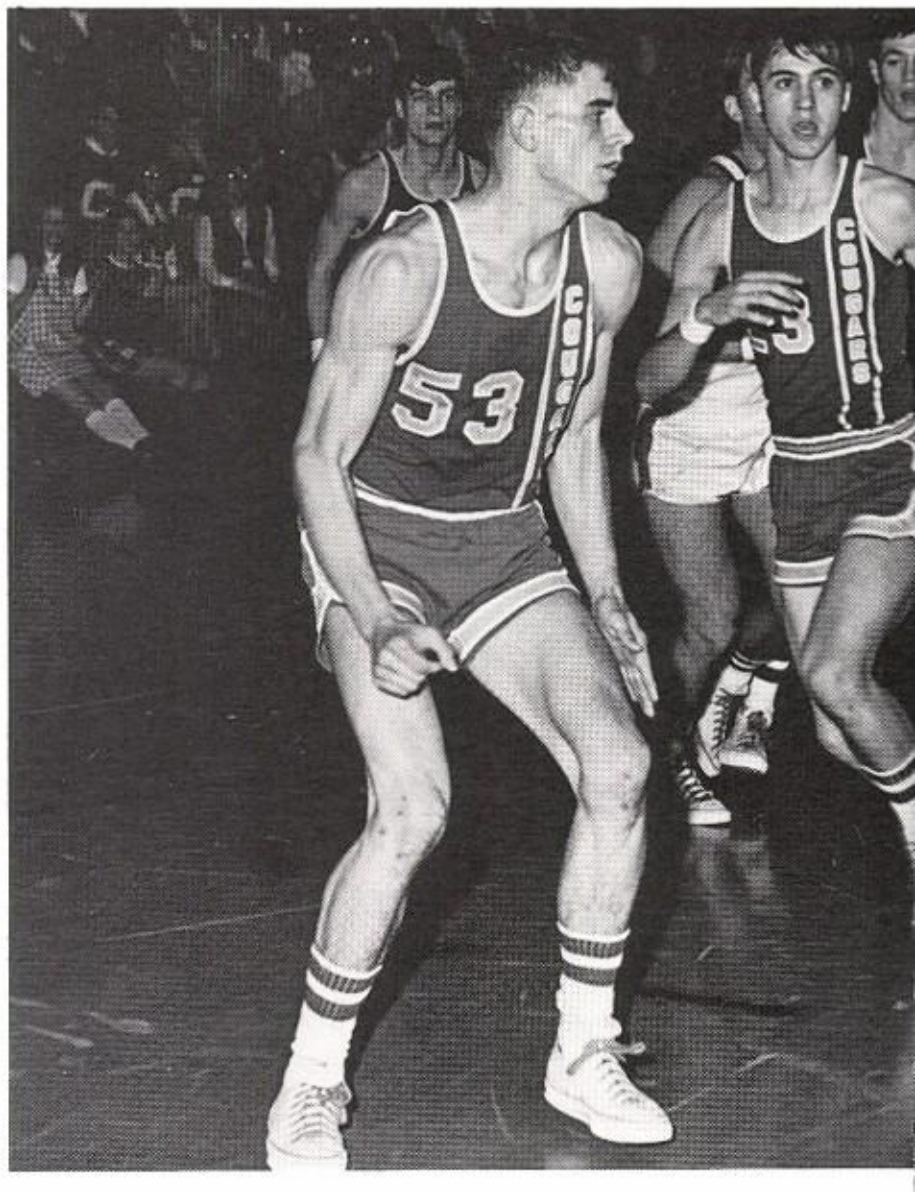


Psyching out his opponent comes easy to junior Tim O'Brian, as he readies himself for the takedown against his Wood opponent.



"Pin him, Persy, Pin him", chants the enthusiastic crowd, and John Persinger followed orders.

Varsity team sets many new records; exhibits teamwork



Chatard's basketball team was not supposed to be very tough this season. At least that's what the "experts" said. They had lost Jim Pratt and Dick Proffitt by graduation. How could the Trojans hope to replace these two outstanding individuals? Mr. David Alexander, new head basketball coach, proved that what the Trojans did have has teamwork. He would replace two individuals with five teammates. This is evidenced by the fact that the difference between the leading scorer's average and that of the fifth leading scorer is but 6.9 points. Yes, the 1969-70 season was surely a team effort!

The season started off with victories over Deaf School and Latin School. It was in the Latin School game that the Trojans set the all-time defense record. They allowed the Cougars only 36 points, while they gathered 95.

Then came the New Palestine Tourney. This may have been the high point of the season. By wiping out Morton Memorial in the afternoon, Chatard advanced to the final game against New Palestine. They scored a 78-63 victory and became the tourney's champs.

The next two season games saw the Trojans coming home winners, while playing some very good basketball. Then they dropped one to Northwest which left them 7-8 for the season.

Brebeuf's Braves were next in line. They were scalped 74-63 as Bill Rodecker played his best game. He hit on 9 of 11 shots.

In their sectional encounter with Northwest, the Trojans finally succumbed 67-65. Northwest went on to win the sectional and advance to the regional. Over all Chatard ended the season with a 10-11 record. Not bad for a rebuilding year.

A number of new records were set this season. Bill Rodecker set new records for a game, a season, and a career, shooting percentage. He connected on 62. 7% of his shots for the season. Mark McDonough finished his four year varsity treck as a member of the 1000 point club. Billy Lynch established the best free throw percentage for a season. He made 49 of 64 free ones for 76.6%. Billy didn't stop there, however. For a game and a season, Lynch had the most assists and recoveries.

finish treck on top

The Reserve Basketball Team finished their season with a fine record of 12-7. Mr. John Nell took on the bulk of the coaching responsibility and guided the team successfully in preparation for varsity play.

The team started off their season with four wins against Deaf School, Latin School, Broad Ripple, and Ritter respectively, totalling 212 points against the oppositions' 135.

The next game went to Shortridge, with the Trojans losing by only three baskets, 35-41.

Another loss and win passed before the New Palestine Holiday Tourney. Their afternoon opponent, Morton Memorial, fell to the Trojans by a score of 37-18 with great defensive playing on Chatard's part. They then proceeded to grab the tourney Championship by defeating New Palestine.

The remaining ten games were divided equally between wins and losses.

The reserve team shows power and depth that promise a great upcoming varsity year.

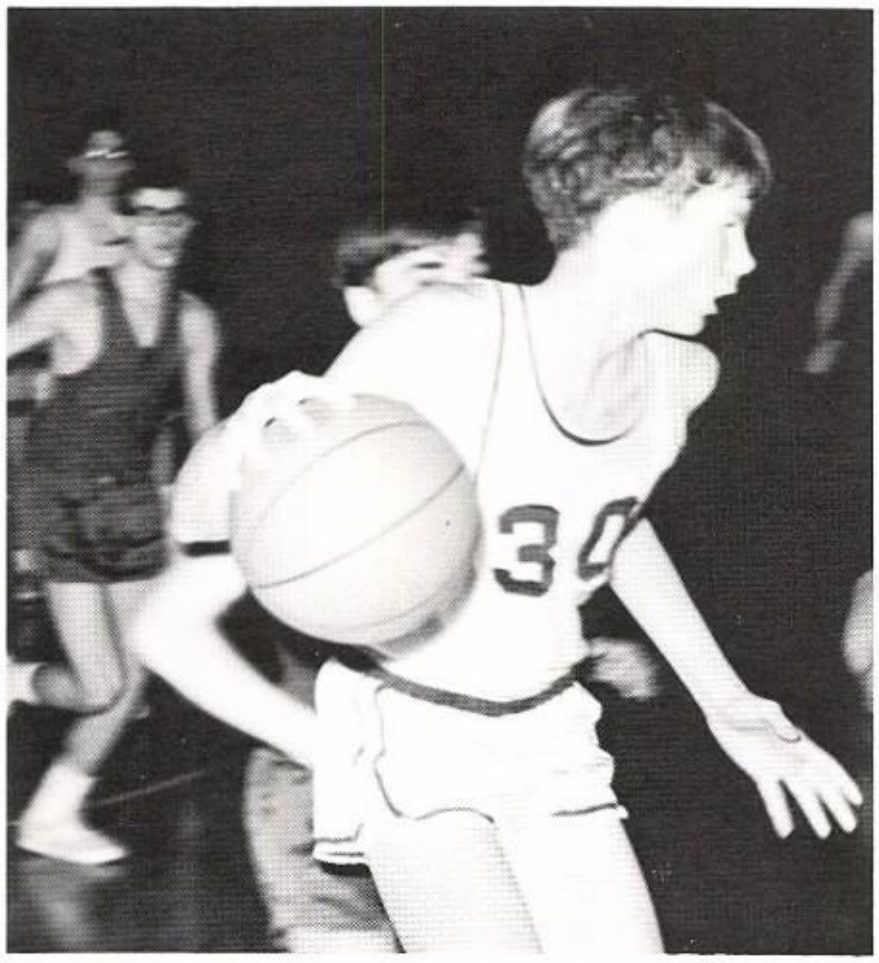
Freshman basketball season builds men



One word for this year's Freshman Basketball team was "unpredictable". They started off their season with a win and a loss. They then went on to win their next three games, bringing high hopes for the remainder of the season. But as it turned out, they hit a slump and lost the next four games.

the Frosh finally ended their season with a respectable 10-8 record. They were under the direction of Coach Scott Neat, a former Butler basketball star.

The freshmen showed a great amount of ability and power, and with further practice, give promise of being a definite asset to Chatard's future basketball team.

Intramurals uncover 'buried' talent

There are many outstanding basketball players at Chatard, but only a few are able to exhibit their prowess as a member of the Chatard Varsity or Reserve teams. For this reason the Boys Intramural Basketball Association was created. Each Sunday the gym is inhabited with these teams vying for the IBA championship and a chance to play the faculty in the annual "battle of the generations".

This year the winner of the senior-junior division was the "Crown Hill Underground". The "Lafayette Lynches", carried away the sophomore-freshmen title. The Underground emerged victorious, but in the faculty game, finally succumbed with a score of 64-58. Credit to the victory goes to hotdog Nell, super-shott Schott, and neat Scott Neat. Handicapped by injuries, the Crown Hill nevertheless put on the best show ever against the faculty team, and an incentive for the Intramural team to come.

Fixed eyes on the ball assure Steve Hensel of a strong drive.

This year's team of mighty golfers "drove" off with a victorious record of eleven wins, nine losses and one tie.

Each player devoted his extra time to the golf course, and in this way showed individual stamina. Under the expert supervision of Mr. Ricardo Mendez, these men were brought together to form a strong unit.

Senior members Bill Rodecker, Rory Russell, and Ed Bloemker headed the team of eleven, with five sophomores and three freshmen making for a strong back. Bill Rodecker received top honors with an overall season average of 39.8, and Rory Russell came in a close second with an average of 41.7.

The team participated in four tournaments this year, and raised money for the trips through a successful dance. Chatard's golf team placed third in the City Tournament, the highest in the school's history, and 12th in the Sectional Tournament. They also travelled to the elite Lafayette Invitational Tourney and the Lake Hills Tourney located near Chicago.

The reserve golf team ended the season triumphantly, winning five and tying one.

With summer practice and determined wills, next year's golf team should finish on top.

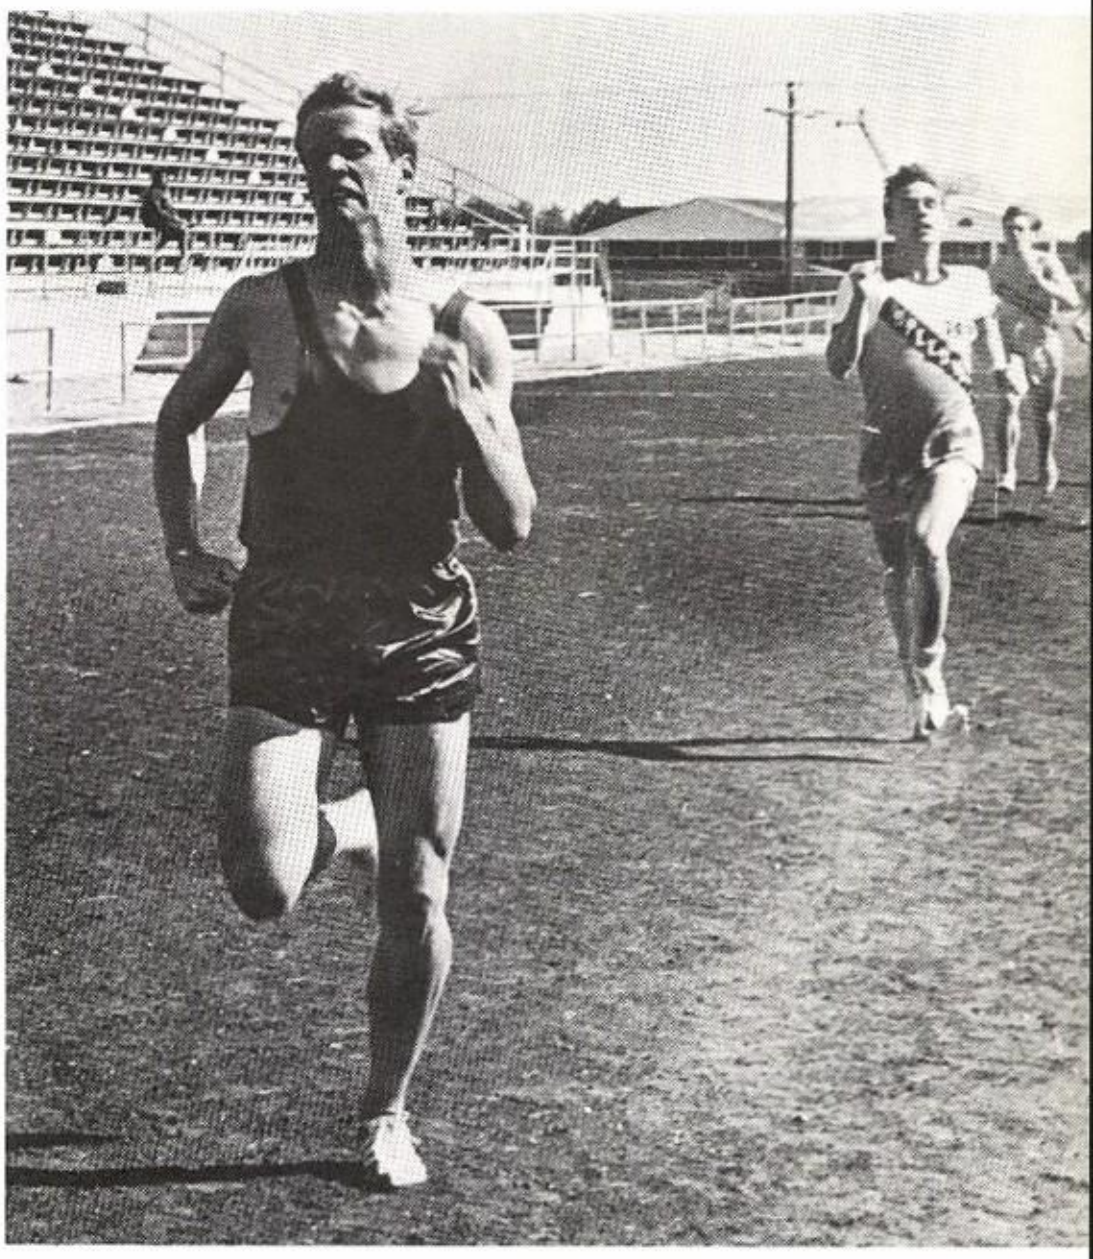
Trackmen improve during cinder season

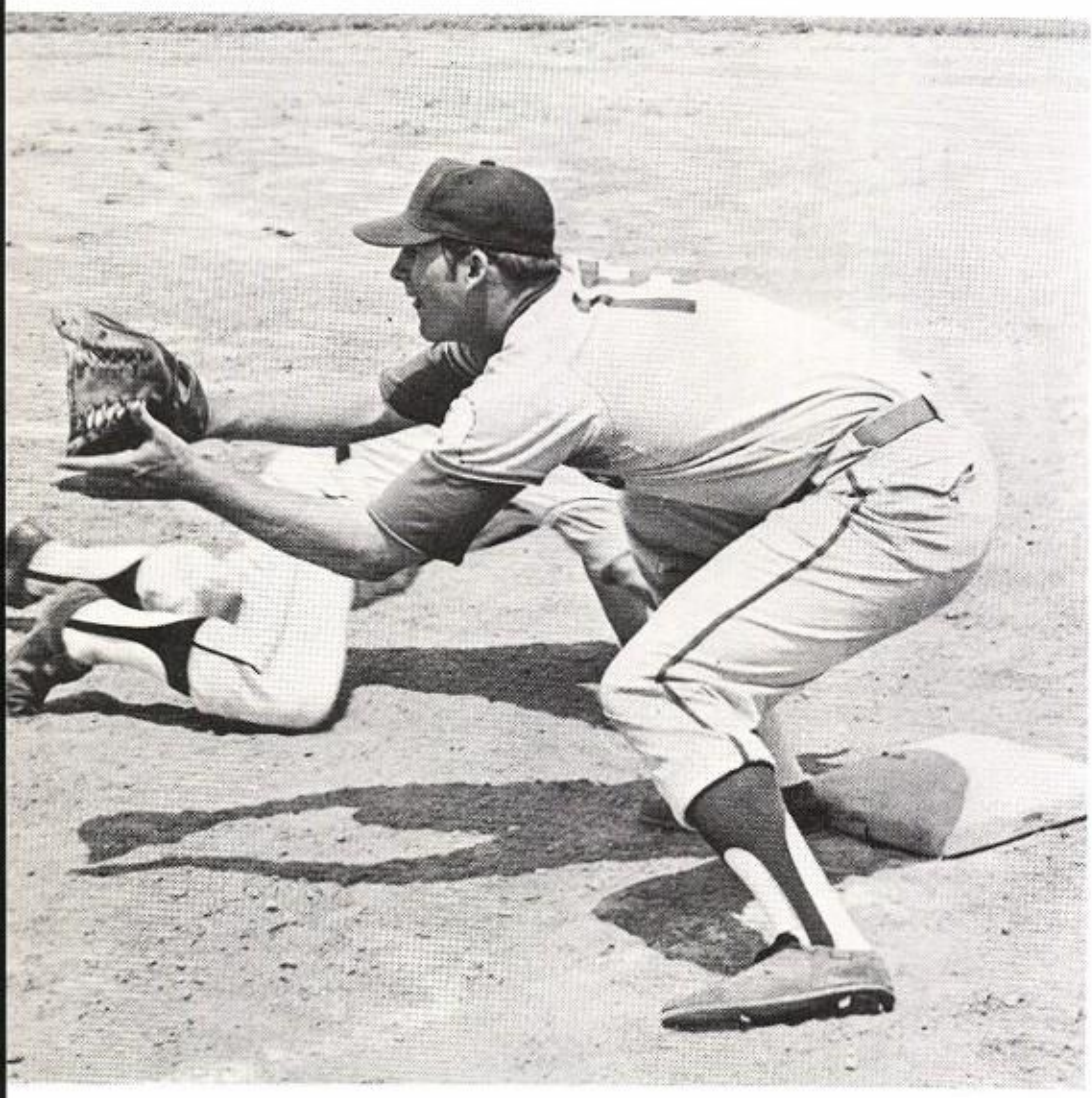
Flying discus, marathon batons and a cloud of cinders mark some of the familiar sights of a track meet.

This year, Chatard's track team was under the direction of Mr. Craig Hauss. The team was relatively young with only two contributing seniors, each injured during the season. The underclassmen had an overall good turnout despite the many rainy day practices. The juniors had two participate in the spring sport, the sophomores were represented with eight hard workers and the freshmen were thirteen strong. The experience gathered by the men this year was a valuable building block for future years.

Track calls upon an individuals determination and hard work. The events rest on the achievement attained by each member during his many strenuous practices. Coach Hauss is convinced that with combined efforts and positive thinking, next year's track team will surprise everyone.



Varsity players shape rebuilding year



The 1970 Trojan Varsity Baseball Team ended their rebuilding year with a 9-11 record. The team of six seniors, four juniors and four sophomores was coached by Mr. David Alexander, and excelled throughout the year.

The Trojans may have started the season off on the wrong foot by falling to Pike, but their next game was a tremendous and unbelievable comeback. They defeated Latin School 30-0. An added attraction to the Latin School game was three home runs. Mark McDonough received high honors with two homers, and Steve Stocker hit one beautiful baby over the fence.

The next two games caught Chatard off guard. The battle between Marshall, and the long treck to Lafayette against Jefferson ended in defeat.

But again the Trojans came back with what has to be one of the most exciting games of the season. The score was 11-9, Northwest's favor. John Veza stepped up to bat, two outs, two men on base, bottom of the seventh. A hush came over the crowd, and all eyes were fixed upon the determining Trojan's next move. The pitch was hurled forward; the mighty Veza swung. An earth-shattering crack was heard, and a glimpse of a white object flying over the center field fence was seen. As a result, Chatard won the ballgame, and the sport of baseball was glorified once more.

The next three games teeter-tottered between wins and losses, with the Trojans conquering Manual 5-0.

The Scecina game was a heartbreaker, losing ir the ninth inning overtime.

Then came Ben Davis, with Dave Sheehan pitching all seven innings, letting only eight pitches called as "balls". Howe and Wood were next in line with Chatard winning both. Arlington captured Chatard, but the Trojans came right back and won the Roncalli game.

Three losses later, a home run by Jim Jackson and a team desire to win brought Lafayette Central Catholic to their knees. For Chatard, only one win remained over Carmel.

The season came to an end with the sectionals and Chatard again facing Arlington. A two inning overtime ended the boy's long, hard season with Arlington winning 8-6.

For the Trojan Baseball Team, it has been a weary, tiresome journey up hill. They have developed well and patched the many cuts and bruises from last year's player losses. Next year's team should reap the harvest of this year's hard work.

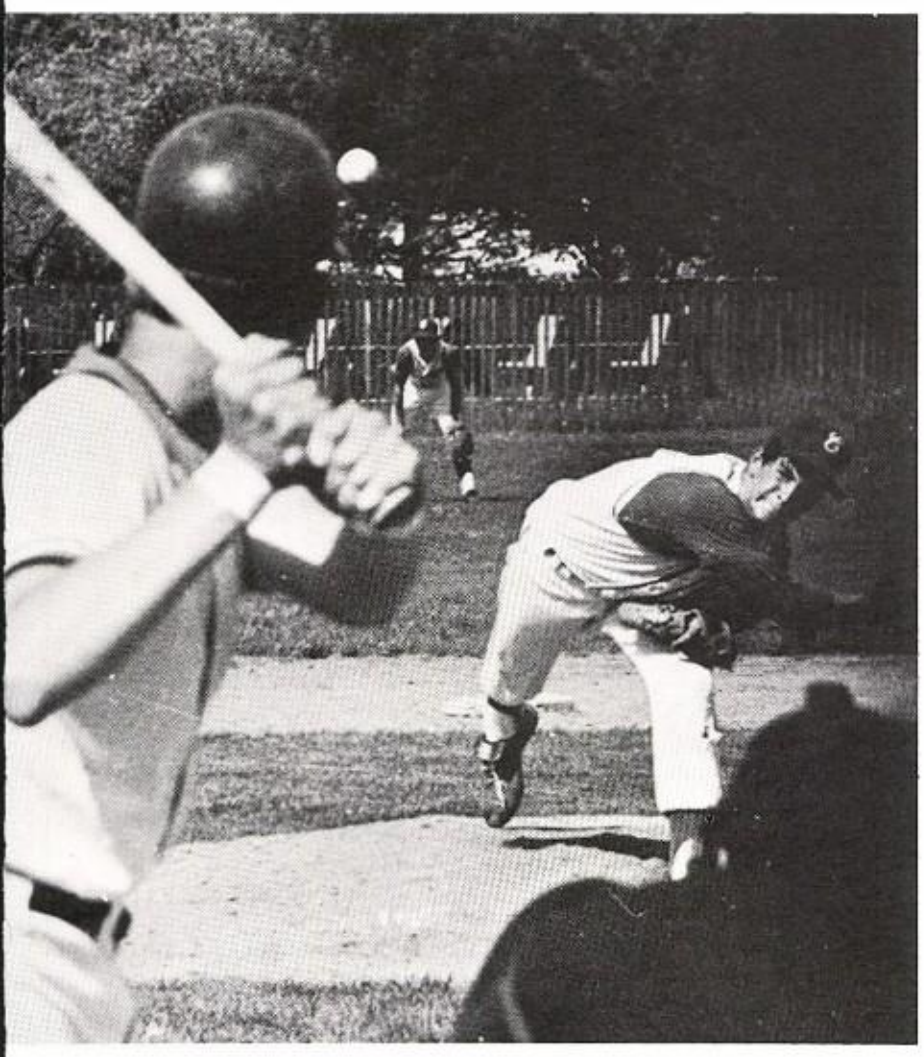
Good future ahead for Trojan baseball



The Chatard Reserve Baseball Team under the leadership of Mr. John Nell, compiled a successful record of ten wins and four losses.

The team started their season with a bang, by defeating Latin School seventeen to zero. They went on to defeat their next two opponents, but fell to Northwest by one point. The Trojans then resumed their position of champs and won seven out of the final ten games.

The team is compiled of hard working sluggers who averaged eight runs a game to their opponents four. The team is strong, with twelve freshmen, five sophomores, and two juniors. The varsity team is compiled of eight underclassmen, therefore giving the teams depth.

With true Trojan determination and additional individual practice during the summer months, the reserve baseball team promises another great year for Chatard.

Leadership abounds in Freshman Class

Frosh sponsor Mrs. Geisler adds the results after their dance.

This year's freshman class was a class on the move. That first assembly, 209 mouths startled the classes of '72, '71 and '70 with a booming "HERE'S THE CLASS OF '73" and set a new precedent—namely that freshmen are not always on the bottom of the heap. The team of officers were lead by Tim Queisser as President, with David Pratt, V.P.; Secretary Joan Hennessey and Treasurer Steve Prout pitching in. Miss Doris Geisler, alias Mrs. Fred Chandler, as class advisor, accomplished many things.

Crowning touch to the class's accomplishments was the freshman team's city football title.

While the class of '73 stepped out in June grateful to be sophomores, their freshman year was one to be remembered.

In addition to his post as sophomore class sponsor, Mr. Farrell is glad to take time out to tell Brad Kessler, Tom Kelley and Carol Prenatt about Joe the Pharoah.

Blazing the path through the halls of uncertainty, this year's Sophomore Class has discovered a new individuality. Their talent has been a bonus for the whole school, found on the varsity teams as well as in the classroom.

Ken Homola and Bill Lynch have been exceptional in football and basketball, with a city championship in wrestling through Van Petit's efforts.

On the cultural side, Dana Hadden won first and second place for her distinctive designs in a city-wide air pollution poster contest.

The annual sophomore-sponsored dance became a bright spot for all, featuring the top-rated rock group, "The Rock, Stock and Barrel." Class treasurer, Helen Langenbacher, was proud to announce a profit of $100.00.

Leading the Class of '72 were Tom Jackson, president; Joe Dowd, vice president; and Sue Veza, secretary. Under the careful supervision of Mr. John Farrell, the class accomplished many important goals.

With these two high school years behind the class of '72, one could say that all are ready and willing to take up the honor of being Juniors and the responsibilities in years ahead.

Class officers Helen Langenbacher, Sue Veza, Tom Jackson and Joe Dowd worked hard to carry the responsibility of the class.

1-9-7-1 that's the class on the run

To a year of success,

Caution! Handle with care! The next twelve pages will deliver to you the progress report of a year of success.

Observe carefully, for this is no ordinary class. We are the juniors! Who else but the class of '71 could take top honors in everything from the Homecoming to the Variety Show, and still end the year with a mind-bending prom.

Throughout the year direction was willingly provided by our class president, Bill Connor; vice-president, Clare Fox; treasurer, Steve Stocker; secretary, Camille Bunny, along with our sponsor Miss O'Donnell.

Our float "The Trojan Key to Victory" unlocked the door to the onset of a prosperous year. Fortune smiled again as the mid-year dance served as a real uplift for everyone involved. The coming of a new season also brought honor in the entertainment category, for the proud juniors placed first in the annual Variety Show.

The success of our class is also reflected in various achievements by outstanding individuals. Scholastically, juniors were inducted as members in to the National Honor Society. Several juniors also vied for opportunities to visit foreign countries representing their respective language courses.

All these memories and many more are locked in one mold taking the shape of the class ring. Hopes, fears, excitement—all are a part of our uniqueness as well as our oneness.

P.S. A note to the underclassmen: We hope you will also "collect on delivery" the joy of unity which has made our year such a special one.

Sincerely,

The Class of '71

Seniors' Togetherness Leads Chatard

What is it that makes a class real? What transforms a mob of scared freshmen into a group of seniors who are the closest class ever?

The togetherness came slowly, with happiness and sadness, and above all, sharing. There was the first assembly and class call when the "Class of '70" sat quietly while classes '69, '68, and '67 laughed. And there was more laughter when the freshman float emerged—a lumpy bowling ball to knock down the Crusaders.

Then not-so-silly sophomore year came. A turnabout dance was sponsored, and much to the surprise of the skeptics who had said that this class would never turn out, the dance was a success.

During junior year, the class of '70 came into its own. "UP, UP AND AWAY" was the theme of the class float, and when the blue and white "balloon" won the Homecoming contest, class spirit soared too. Junior confidence faltered slightly with the confusing newness of the modular system, but soon Chataflex sounded less like a new cereal and more like a way of life.

The true test of togetherness came with the prom. Success or disaster? The question loomed in everyone's mind. But the boys came through, donating money and arranging dates. The prom had made it, and the class had made it too.

In his last speech, Student Council President of '69 Ken Otto handed the leadership to the new Senior Class, saying "You're the greatest class Chatard has ever seen." And the class stood silent a moment, awed by the legacy, then burst into applause.

Senior year can only be described in one word—SWELL!! From the mudfights to the "pile-on" football games to Pizza Inn, the class of '70 has known happiness. And from the loss of a classmate to the injury of a favorite player, they have known sadness. But in whatever they have done, they've shared a very special togetherness.

Getting an education isn't the easiest thing in the world. It's hard work. It's expensive. It takes time. But it pays off in big dividends for everybody.

Indiana is one big campus. From Michigan City to Madison . . . from Richmond to Terre Haute—Indiana boasts hundreds of educational institutions of every size, teaching every subject imaginable.

RCA knows this. It's one of the reasons why RCA's home is in Indiana. We're always looking for top-flight people to help keep us in the forefront of the dynamic, ever-changing world of electronics and communications.

Education is not only the framework on which society is built, but the measure of its progress as well. Education also helps determine the accomplishments of the individual. That's why we hope that if you're in school—you'll stay there. Both of us will be richer for it.

PARENT-FACULTY ASSOCIATION

During a free module, many head for the cafeteria to study.

Miscellaneous:

ABOVE: Sophomores try to ignore the camera and keep on listening during an English class lecture. BELOW: The reserve baseball team takes a keen interest in the outcome of a game.

POPPIES AND Panacin
SURE MAKE YA' HIGH
BUT BEING A TROJAN IS THE BEST WAY TO FLY!
WE'RE GONNA
BEAT THE BRAVES

and the trash baskets are stuffed with once-vital notebooks and work honor cards.

CHRIST
CHURCH

But these are only the remainder of the years; not the sum.
The sum lies within ourselves.
We have learned
We have changed
We have grown.
It was a very good year.

June 13, 1970

Well, Staff, it's finally finished! After a year of work and worry the Citadel has gone to press, but along with it a lot of fun and a goal attained. This year's Citadel has many new features including color pictures, and an increase of 25 pages. Thanks go to all the generous patrons and merchants—hope to see you next year, too!

Special thanks to Mike, Alice, Patty, Dana, Joni, Jane, Joan, Beth, Francie, Diane, Rita, and Jeanne for your many hours that you gave to help. You worked very hard and put up with a lot and I am very grateful.

I hope everyone who reads this book will enjoy it and be able to recall with pleasure the memories of the schoolyear 1970.

Sincerely,

Ann Temple
